HOT SPRINGS FAST RETURNING TO ITS NORMAL ACTIVITIES AFTER THE FLOOD

Utilities Functioning, Following Destruction by Fire of Hotel and Seven Stores and Damage by Water to Shop Fronts; Loss Under $1,000,000.

WOMAN IN AUTO SERIOUSLY INJURED

Effective Rescue Work Prevented Loss of Life; Women at Hotel Jumped Into Water; Element of Surprise in Sudden Torrent

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 16.—The destruction by fire of the Marquette Hotel and seven store buildings was the chief damage of Monday's flood and fire in Hot Springs. Damage by water was the demolition of about 100 store fronts along the main business thoroughfare, the shops, the upheaval of sidewalks and paving and the indeterminate damage to 100 or more automobiles which were swept along in the five-foot water, which for two hours rushed through Central avenue, the main business thoroughfare. The damage estimate is under $1,000,000, which $250,000 was to the Marquette Hotel.

No lives were lost. One woman, Mrs. Katie Christensen, is in a hospital with skull fracture suffered in the fighting by the water. Her husband was tangled in an automobile in which she was swept along and it was necessary for rescuers to hack it off with pickaxes to release her. Animal activities of the city are being resumed, with public utilities again functioning. Partial telephone and telegraph connection was restored yesterday. The local company of Arkansas National Guardsmen is on duty in the streets.

The peculiar physical characteristics of the city, which has approximately 20,000 inhabitants, was responsible for the flood. The city nestles in a ravine between two Ozark "Mountains" which are prehistoric hills about 300 feet high. The main street, Central avenue, follows what formerly was a creek bed, the natural waterway for rains from the hills. It runs north and south for about one mile and as it reaches the hill slope divides in two, one following the hill slope and the other the west arm of the "Y" and Park avenue the east arm.

Element of Surprise.
On many other occasions of unusual rainfall water has flowed down Central avenue, often with some damage, but Monday's rain was torrential, a total of six and a half inches of water fell in 24 hours, ending at 7 a. m. today, which was only 1.62 inch. For the 24 hours before that it was 1.2 inch, making a total of 2.22 inches for a 48-hour period, which has been considered here as a "wet spell."

Water rushed down Whittington avenue from West Mountain and down Park avenue from East Mountain. The combined streams, meeting at the head of Central avenue, soon reached a depth of five feet and plunged through the heart of the town like Niagara rapids.

Water had been flowing down the streets but accustomed to such phenomena, pedestrians continued their way and automobiles plowed along the streets. Suddenly the clouds seemed to dump their contents to the last drop in one great deluge. The crest of water from the hills, almost wall-like, rushed through Central avenue, sweeping everything before it. The street is 60 feet wide, and almost at its curb the slope of the hills began, so that all the water was confined in a narrow 65-foot gorge.

Ropes Were Stretched.
Automobiles were swung out of control and hurled and rolled their way in the millrace. Pedestrians could not breast the flood or swim it, and were carried on helplessly. At a few spots ropes were stretched between the buildings, and rescuers clinging to them snatched men, women and children from the tide.

Fire Captain Rescue Worker.
Stories of remarkable rescues as told by eyewitnesses add to the wonder that many lives were not lost. Capt. John Lovett, of fire company No. 1, engaged in rescue work while the churning waters and the fire were at their height, carried a woman

WOMAN EARNS $30 A DAY AS WELDER ON SKYSCRAPER

Another Is Bricklayer and Drives $10 A Day and Operates Both A Mothers.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 16.—Two mothers in overalls earning big pay at husky men's jobs have been discovered here.

Mrs. Katherine Nelson, 35 years old, who has a son, 17, and a daughter, 16, earns $30 a day as an electric welder. She works on skyscrapers, bridges, smokestacks and the like.

Florence Thompson, 26, is a bricklayer—the product of a school for artisans conducted by her husband. When she works at the trade, which is whenever she needs a new hat or gown, she draws the prevailing wage of $10 a day and up.

In her neighborhood Mrs. Nelson was a machinist's apprentice in her husband's shop. When he died she came to America. She couldn't get a woman's job, so she became a machinist in the Erie Railway shops and later an electric welder.

ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE VOTES TO FILE DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL

Eventual Defeat of Measure Indicated by Numerous Votes Given as Reason for Action.

The Legislative Committee of the Board of Aldermen today voted to file away in committee the daylight saving bill introduced by Alderman Wimer. This unfavorable report will mean the eventual defeat of the bill.

Reasons given were that so much protest had been evoked by the introduction of the bill that the committee deemed it inadvisable to vote favorably on it. The bill provided for advancing the hands of the clock one hour from the first Sunday in June to the last Sunday in September. Daylight saving is now in effect in many cities.

"GOT BOTTLE OF HOME BREW BY ORDERING 300 SANDWICHES"

Former Policeman Gained Groceries' Confidence by Large Order for Party, Lawyer Says.

Herbert Meyer, proprietor of a grocery and meat market at 3700 Salena street, pleaded guilty in Federal court today of possession and sale of home brew. Special Assistant Attorney General David Informer Judge Dyer that Meyer had previously been fined $400 by Judge Fay for possession.

Meyer's lawyer said Herbert Lampe, formerly a policeman, gained Meyer's confidence by ordering 300 sandwiches and two cases of root beer for a party and then induced Meyer to sell him a bottle of home brew.

$1700 STOLEN IN HOLDUP IN RAILWAY EXCHANGE BUILDING

Missouri Pacific Employee Says Robber Grabbed Satchel in Hallway on Tenth Floor.

HAD CASHED PAY CHECKS OF 22 CLERKS

Carried Money in Leather Satchel Which, He Says, Man Grabbed and Escaped Down Elevator.

John J. Sheehan of 4339 Olive street, a Missouri Pacific Railroad clerk, reported to the police that a line robber had taken from him $1774, representing cash he had obtained from a bank for the semi-monthly pay checks of himself and 22 fellow clerks, in a tenth floor corridor of the Railway Exchange Building at 10 a. m. today.

Sheehan has been getting pay checks cashed for other employees of the road's mechanical superintendent's department for some time. "I was coming from the First National Bank with the money in a black leather satchel. I always have kept watch by glancing in show windows for the block and a half walk outside, and I'm sure no one followed me today. I took a local street elevator to the tenth floor and got out opposite our office."

"A man stepped over to me—he was 35 or 40 years old and wore a dark suit and a soft hat. He grabbed my right arm and said, 'Give me that bag.' Then he took the bag. I didn't see a revolver, but he was pointing something at me through his coat and I think it must have been a revolver."

"He pushed the button for a down elevator, then shoved me around to face the other way. When an elevator stopped he got in. I gave the alarm in the office, but it was several minutes before we could get another elevator down."

Charles Milberg of 4574 Easton avenue saw Sheehan and the robber standing near the elevator doors, just before the robber took the elevator. Milberg went to Police Headquarters with Sheehan to look at photographs of police characters in an effort to find the robber. Detectives questioned the elevator operators, who are negro girls, to learn more about the robber's movements.

HARDING GIVES NEW ORLEANS NEGRO RECESS APPOINTMENT

Walter Cohen Had Failed of Confirmation by Senate for District of Columbia Post.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 16.—Walter C. Cohen, New Orleans negro, Republican member, has been given a recess appointment by President Harding as Commissioner of Customs for the New Orleans district. Cohen was nominated for the same office during the recent session of Congress but failed of confirmation by the Senate.

The action of the President in appointing Cohen was announced at New Orleans. Senate officials expressed the belief that the appointment was entirely proper, although the opinion of the Senate as set forth on previous occasions has been that a person whose nomination has been rejected by the Senate cannot be given a recess appointment.

Cohen has been prominent in Republican politics in Louisiana for several years.

GEORGE JAY GOULD DIES IN FRANCE FROM PNEUMONIA

American Financier, Ill Since March 20, Succumbs at Cap Martin—Suffered Relapse Two Weeks Ago.

RECENTLY INVOLVED IN FAMILY LITIGATION

Removed as Executor of Jay Gould Estate in 1919—Married Former Actress 30 Years His Junior Last Year

MENTONE, France, May 16.—George Jay Gould, the American financier, who has been ill at Cap Martin, near here, for some time, died at 2 o'clock this morning.

Gould, who was 59 years old, was stricken with pneumonia at his villa on March 20. For several days his condition remained critical, but he then rallied and on April 3 was said to be on the verge of recovery. He later, however, suffered a relapse and on May 3 took a turn for the worse.

The end came peacefully. Gould's wife and two children were at his bedside.

GOULD DIED WITH PART OF FAMILY AGAINST HIM

Trained in a Rigid School, His Life Was Filled With Unpleasant Incidents.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 16.—George J. Gould was born Feb. 6, 1864, in the old Jay Gould mansion, long since disappeared, at 33 East Seventeenth street. Though the son of a mighty Jay Gould, one of the greatest figures in American finance in his time, and Helen Jay Miller Gould, a reigning society leader of New York in days when a real American aristocracy consisted of the Vanderbilts, Astors, Goulds and their handpicked acquaintances—George Jay had his adventures as well as glories from the start.

It is probable that George Jay Gould could have said on his death bed that life had been good, but that he had more than his share of unhappiness from childhood through youth and young manhood into middle age.

Eldest son of Jay Gould and destined to succeed to his father's rank and station, coming into the control of more than $72,000,000 upon his father's death in 1892, he need not have been envied much at any stage of his career by the average salaried man. He did with a part of his family turned against him. His father's fortune had diminished considerably under his management. Nothing of consequence happened from childhood through youth and young manhood into middle age.

Strife Disciplined in Family.
His father might have been responsible for some of the disharmony in George Jay's life. From childhood he started molding his son's mind and character to agree with his mental model of an able and successful man. He did with a part of his family turned against him. His father's fortune had diminished considerably under his management. Nothing of consequence happened from childhood through youth and young manhood into middle age.

After a short time in his father's office, learning details of finance and railroad management, he became a clerk in the office of Conner & Co., in which Washington E. Conner and Jay Gould were partners. His wage was said to be very small. He was a short-sighted worker, and it was said that the only favor he showed was his extensive explanations of all the firm's deals. He succeeded to his father's partnership in the firm in December, 1883, a little more than three years later. In the pre-

UPTON SINCLAIR GETS ARRESTED TESTING LAW

Author and Three Friends Taken Away in Auto After Attempt to Speak in San Pedro.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, May 16.—Upton Sinclair, novelist and Socialist, is under arrest by Los Angeles police on charges of unlawful assembly and suspicion of criminal syndicalism. It was announced today by Chief of Police Louis B. Oaks that he had taken Sinclair and three others into custody at San Pedro last night, but gave no information as to where the arrested men were taken.

An attempt by Sinclair to conduct an outdoor meeting by reading aloud the preamble to the Constitution of the United States was interrupted by Oaks, who broke up the gathering and escorted Sinclair and three companions to a waiting automobile and the machine was rolled away to a station in downtown Los Angeles. The action of Chief Oaks came as a climax to efforts by Sinclair, his brother-in-law, Hunter Kimbrough, Prince Hopkins and Hugh Haysman to obtain a permit from the Los Angeles authorities to conduct a meeting at Liberty Hill, where assemblies were prohibited since the strike of the Marine Transport Workers, branch of the Industrial Workers of the World, has been under way.

Although police announced the party would be taken to headquarters and brought to trial, the district attorney today failed to reveal Sinclair, Kimbrough, Hopkins or Haysman in custody at any of them.

At Sinclair's home in Pasadena, Mrs. Sinclair was advised by saying that she had been advised by Mrs. Kate Crane Gartz of Pasadena that her husband was in jail in Los Angeles. Mrs. Gartz was a member of the Sinclair party at Liberty Hill last night, but was not molested by the police.

When he was refused a permit to speak, Chief Oaks quoted the city ordinance which forbids any person from using any public place for a meeting or assembly without a permit from the city. Sinclair was quoted as saying that he was not a member of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Earlier yesterday Mayor George E. Cryer refused to grant the Sinclair party permission to hold a meeting in the harbor district. Sinclair quoted his constitutional right.

FRANCE WANTS ENOUGH FROM GERMANY TO PAY WAR REPAIRS, U. S. AND BRITAIN

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
COURTNEY, 1923.
PARIS, May 16.—Many doubt remains concerning the final of the German war reparations, declares Le Temps, it is not France's fault, for France has clearly specified its reduced minimum claim, but rather Great Britain's for that country has never clearly stated how much it expects to demand for reparations or from France or Italy for war debts.

Le Temps continues, is 25 percent of the A and B bonds aggregating 26,000,000,000 gold marks ($6,188,000,000), representing roughly the cost of repairing France's material damages, exclusive of pensions. In addition France claims enough noninterest-bearing bonds eventually to discharge the French debt to Great Britain and the United States. Depending upon Great Britain's demand, the reparations total, Le Temps estimates, may be cut very low or on the other hand may be quadrupled.

POSTAL CLERK HAD PART IN HOLDUP OF TRAIN IN ILLINOIS

By the Associated Press.
NEWBURGH, N. Y., May 16.—Repeal of State prohibition enforcement statutes would be likely to result in "more or less conflict between State and Federal authorities" in the opinion of President Harding. The views of the President were expressed in a letter to Wesley Wall of this city, made public today.

Marion Employee Confesses He Was Disguised in Robbery in Which $21,000 Was Taken From Mail

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MARION, Ill., May 16.—Loy Acery, parcel post clerk in the post office here, confessed today that he took part in the robbery of a combination mail, baggage and express car of the Marion & Eastern Railroad Monday afternoon, in which $21,000 was taken from a mail pouch. He said he wore a wig and a false mustache during the robbery.

Local officers, working on information given by Acery, found $7000 of the stolen money hidden in Acery's barn, and $42,000 hidden in the barnyard of a farm near town.

Names His Accomplices.
Dee Barker, who has been under arrest since last year after the robbery, is named by Acery as one of his accomplices, and the third man is being sought.

Acery's story is that he, and the man who has not yet been arrested, hid in the combination car before the train left Marion at 4:15 p. m. Monday. They had planned to rob the car after the train was well outside the town, but almost as soon as the train left the station the conductor entered the combination car to get his gloves. No other person except the robbers was in the combination car at the time. The appearance of the conductor was not according to their plan, and they at once seized him, and tied him, then seized the mail pouch and jumped off the train.

CHINESE OFFICIALS GO AS HOSTAGES TO FREE FOREIGNERS

Minister of Communications and a General Offer Selves as Guarantee for Brigands' Demands.

ATTITUDE OF OUTLAW LEADERS STIFFENED

Delay in Negotiations Reported Due to Many Separate Chieftains Who Must Be Consulted.

By the Associated Press. SHANGHAI, May 16.—The strong force of bandits entrenched in the hills back of Linching, where they are holding their foreign prisoners, are contemplating a possible attempt to kidnap parties of foreigners at Tsao Chwang, who have been negotiating for the release of the prisoners captured on the Shanghai-Pekin Express, May 6, according to advices brought here today from Linching.

Members of the Chinese Government gendarmes boarded the train bound for Peking to Shanghai today, attacked officials, beat their Chinese servants who resisted, seized everything on the train, despite the protests of foreigners, and held possession of the train for several hours, it was learned when the train reached here this afternoon.

Finally, consular officials aboard, backed by the Chinese officials, prevailed upon the gendarmes to leave the train.

By the Associated Press. PEKIN, May 16.—With the Government's consent, Minister of Communications Wu Yu-Lan and Gen. Yang Iteh have proceeded to the stronghold of the brigands as hostages, to obtain the release of the foreigners held captive.

By the Associated Press. TIENSIN, May 16.—Reports from Linching yesterday said that optimism pointing to the immediate release of the foreign captives held by Chinese bandits was based on misplaced negotiations lasting three days, and that a settlement was no nearer than at the start.

The delay is said to have been due largely to the fact that the brigands who seized the express train near Suowang are not acting independently, but are members of an extensive organization which must be consulted.

Other factors may have entered into the situation, but it is evident that the attitude of the bandits has stiffened. Dr. Martens has returned from the bandit headquarters with the statement that he was not allowed to visit the captives, some of whom are ill.

The bandits, it is said at Linching, resent the action of the Chinese soldiers in tightening the cordon around about the hills.

No Word From Conference. No messages have been received from Roy Anderson, an American in close touch with political and military affairs in China, who started for the captives' camp yesterday to learn the result of Monday's conference between bandits and Chinese officials.

An official statement concerning the conference said "a tentative understanding" had been reached for the release of foreign and Chinese captives. It developed, however, that the bandits of Southern Shantung, having an organization extending from Peking to other provinces, and realizing the opportunity afforded by the capture of the foreigners to obtain concessions from the Government, must be consulted as a whole before effecting a final settlement. Those guarding the foreign hostages said they could not commit all involved without a general expression of opinion.

Uprising Against Foreigners Urged. Inflammatory circulars calling the people to rise up against foreigners have been discovered here and in a number of nearby Chinese villages. The circulars alleged that a foreign committee, whose names and occupations are given, is planning to turn the former German concession here over to the British.

The German territory or settlement reverted to China upon the declaration of war against the Central Powers. Since then it has been badly administered by the Chinese, foreigners assert.

The circularizing of the natives is regarded seriously, as it is not believed the circular was concocted by the Chinese.

Three Chinese Captives Said to Have Been Put to Death.

By the Associated Press. SHANGHAI, May 16.—With an unconfirmed report received here this morning from Linching, that three of the Chinese captives held by the Suowang train bandits, had been hurried to their death over a precipice in the Shantung Mountains as a warning to the authorities, further word of the negotiations for the release of the foreign captives was awaited anxiously.

The Linching report said the Chinese captives were killed instantly. The alleged murders are said to have been intended to impress on the Chinese Government and the foreign diplomatic corps that the bandits are not acting independently, but are members of an extensive organization which must be consulted.

Leaders of the bandits are said to have met yesterday afternoon at Tsao Chwang, 10 miles north of Suowang. Counter proposals were discussed and it is believed the outlaws' final decision was forwarded today.

The demands emphasize, as a basic requirement, that the foreign diplomats guarantee the bandits against reprisals from Chinese or foreign sources, and also that the diplomats pledge the carrying out of the general terms. The terms do not mention ransom, but require the formation of the bandit force, numbering 800 into two brigades, with Sun Mei-Jan, one of the bandit leaders, appointed Brigadier-Commander. The Chinese Government also is ordered to send the bandit stronghold in reported instances of ammunition, this to be preceded by the withdrawal of all pursuing troops.

Chevalier Musso, an Italian attorney of Shanghai, one of the captives, is reported in a desperate plight from illness.

Messages are being received regularly by Gen. Tsao Kun, Inspector-General of the Chihli-Shantung and Honan provinces, and also by Linching. The messages concern the statement that there is no hope for a settlement unless the full terms of the bandits are conceded.

CAPT. BERRY'S ALLEGED ARSON PLOT DESCRIBED

Mechanic Testifies for State at Trial of 74-Year-Old Balloonist.

Testimony was resumed today in the trial of John Berry, 74 years old, veteran balloonist, charged with arson in connection with a plot to burn his aviation and automobile repair school at 3510 Washington boulevard, Oct. 31, last, to collect $2000 insurance.

Having been "tipped off" that the fire was to take place, friends in plain clothes and members of the police arson squad were waiting in the vicinity of the school and Berry was arrested as he ran from the building which broke out.

Describes Alleged Plot. Don S. Scarborough of 510 North Sixth street, a mechanic, who was employed by Berry as a tutor, was the state's principal witness yesterday.

He said he had worked for Berry a number of years and that two days before the fire Berry visited him at a new place of employment, said he was hard up for money and that he had rigged up a device to set fire to the school building.

Berry wanted Scarborough to go in with him and Scarborough agreed, but later changed his mind and tried to dissuade Berry from carrying out the device.

The device consisted of a small wooden box with a strip of sand paper tacked to the bottom. A block was nailed to the side of the box and a stick with a bolt so that it would serve as an arm. Matches were placed in the lower end of the arm so that when the arm was moved the match heads would scrape the sand paper and ignite.

String Arrangement. The box was stuffed with shavings, soaked with gasoline, and the box was placed in a motor truck. A gallon can of gasoline was placed on the seat of the truck and tilted so that it could be tipped up.

The strings were then run through the box and fastened to the truck. Another string was fastened to the upper part of the arm in the box.

Gould's Life Full of Unpleasantness; Died With Part of Family Against Him

Shorn in Great Railway War.

Many other great companies saw him as a director of office both among them: The Pacific Mail Steamship Co., Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., Mercantile Trust Co., Guaranty Trust Co., Consolidated Metropolitan Opera Co., Kansas-Missouri Elevator Co., New York Telephone Co., Chicago Elevator Co., Davis Coal & Coke Co., and many others.

The most spectacular years of his life were 1912 and 1913, when he entered the great railway war, which he entered as the controller of the greatest railway mileage in the world under the direction of one man, and came out considerably short. He entered with the Rockefeller interests with him, and he exited with the Rockefeller interests with him.

E. H. Harriman also played the parts of ally and enemy of Gould; and in the end, Harriman was triumphant. The helpless Gould looked on, a very interested spectator, and saw such tactical moves as the destruction of thousands of Western Union telegraph poles by the Pennsylvania Railway.

The Western Union was then under Gould influence. Of all New York railway magnates, he was probably the best known in the West.

Gould's quintette of brothers and sisters has been much in the public eye. Edwin, Howard and Frank Jay, Helen, Miller, Gould, ten philanthropist, wife of Finley J. Shepard; and Anna, now Duchess de Talleyrand, formerly Countess de Castellane and Princess de Sagan.

The children of George Jay are more and more on his son. He said that George Jay was made vice president of the Western Union and a director of the Missouri Pacific, Mississippi, Texas & Pacific, and Indianapolis, Texas & Pacific, and Manhattan Elevated Railway.

The Missouri Pacific became his special charge. A thousand miles of new lines were being constructed. George Jay made frequent trips over the system, old, new and projected. He learned telegraphy and was able, in some rare crises, to sit down at a key and tap off code messages to his father.

The father left George Jay $2,000,000 in the will for services that were insufficiently paid for when rendered. This unbalanced dated back to the clerkship days, but it must also have been for wise strokes of administration, before Jay's death, when the boy was close to 18.

What the father's real estimate of the son was cannot be known. Certainly he did not think him anything but a bound up with trust restrictions.

Married Edith Kingdon, Actress. George Jay was of undervalued stature, olive skinned, dark eyed, and thin. He was married to Edith Kingdon, an American actress, whom he met in London when she was appearing at the Lyceum Theatre. They were married Sept. 14, 1886, in the presence of the family at Lyndhurst.

George J. Gould "are not the issue of George J. Gould" within the meaning of the will of Jay Gould and that they have no interest in the estate.

The guardian further declared that the children are "children of one Guinevere Sinclair and that all of them were born during the married life of George J. Gould and Edith Kingdon Gould, the wife of George J. Gould, and prior to the death of Edith Kingdon Gould; and also prior to the marriage of George J. Gould to the said Guinevere Sinclair." Sumner also denied that George J. Gould was empowered under the terms of his father's will to bequeath his share, or any part of his share, in the Jay Gould estate to the children. The proceedings are still pending in the courts.

Gould was operated on five years ago in Roosevelt Hospital for a stone in his left kidney. The operation was said to have been a success. Gould was a member of the Royal Southampton Yacht Club, Royal Thames Yacht Club, New York Yacht Club, Atlantic Yacht Club, Automobile Club of America, Country Club of Westchester, Country Club of Lakewood, Rumson Country Club, New York Club and New York Athletic Club.

Gould's Many Visits Recalled by St. Louis Railroad Men. George J. Gould used to visit St. Louis on railroad business about once a year. He was president and a director of the Missouri Pacific Railroad from 1893 to 1911 and held the same positions in the old Iron Mountain Pacific, for the last nine years of that period. His last trip here, old-timers at the railroad offices recall, was about 1914. He remained as chairman of the board until the Railroad Administration took charge in 1917.

Gould was a lover of his bird dogs and of hunting. He used to go to Jefferson City from time to time in a private car, and, with a few associates and his dogs, go into Missouri and elsewhere after quail. Among those who would accompany him was the late E. B. Ewing, Jefferson City publisher. Gould had fine Irish setters and other dogs.

Elaborate Country Place. The great home that Gould built at Lakewood, N. J., Georgian Court, at a cost of more than $1,500,000, was one of the most elaborate country places of America. It was completed in 1898, and in addition to the great house, with its priceless furnishings, there were marble figures, about the grounds that cost a fortune, having been gathered from all over Europe. Two polo fields, a great stable of polo ponies, a golf course, a tennis court, and a $65,000 electric fountain and an indoor gymnasium that any athletic club might covet were some of its attractions. Georgian Court was given over for hospital and other war uses during 1918.

Mrs. Edith Kingdon Gould died Nov. 13, 1921, when playing golf at Georgian Court. She died of a heart ailment. She was buried at 857 Fifth avenue, which had been a gift to her. Other Gould homes were his fishing lodge in the Catskills, a shooting estate at Higa Point, N. C., the home of his only son, and a shooting box in Scotland.

For several years that Jay Gould estate has been the subject of bitter wrangling in the Gould family. In 1919 Frank Jay Gould and the Duchess de Talleyrand succeeded in having their brother, George Jay, removed as trustee in their account, and the proceedings they charged him with the mismanagement resulting in losses to the estate totaling millions of dollars. The motion is now pending before the Supreme Court, which George J. Gould Jr., Mrs. Marjorie Gould, Drexel and Lady Deles, are seeking to make Frank Jay Gould jointly responsible with George Jay for any mismanagement of the estate.

MORE JOBS THAN MEN
HERE AND IN STATE

Report of Federal Employment Service Reveals Shortage
In Many Lines.

St. Louis and Missouri rank among the cities and states that have more jobs than men, according to the report of the employment service, United States Department of Labor.

The reports for the city and State are issued today by Richard T. Jones, district director, with headquarters in Kansas City.

St. Louis—Employment shows further gains over last month, especially in iron and steel, automobile manufacturing, leather products, railroads, hardware, lumber and drugs and chemicals, also the building trades. The volume of building under construction exceeds last month's level and the demand for skilled mechanics is consequently stronger, with a marked shortage in many lines. Common labor finds plenty of employment in calls for men for road work, river repairs, new city street and paving jobs. Plenty of skilled farm labor greatly under demand. Increased calls for clerical help, both male and female.

Missouri—Remaining supply of common labor being rapidly absorbed. City work and road construction beginning to call for considerable common labor. Packing plants and railroad shops show better employment than in March. Scarcity of skilled labor beginning to be felt seriously. Farm Labor Bureau at Kansas City anticipates shortage of competent farm labor throughout entire Middle West.

Reports from Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and the Dakotas which are included in the survey show absence of unemployment and shortages of farm labor in some sections. This section is not exceptional, as the report says there is very little unemployment in any part of the United States.

The report, which dates to the end of April, shows increased activity in the metal mining industry, lumber mills unable to run to capacity for lack of workers, and hindering of building and construction from the same cause.

JUDGE IN FLORIDA PRISON CAMP
INQUIRY REMOVED FROM OFFICE

Senate Also Refuses to Reconsider
Action Abolishing Lash—Bill Awaits Governor's Action.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 15.—Gov. Hardee of Florida today had before him the bill which proposes to abolish the whip and the whipping post in State convict camps. The Governor's signature is all that now is required to make the measure a law. The bill was clinched in the Senate yesterday, when that body refused to reconsider their previous favorable action, by a vote of 15 to 11.

A feature of the day was the declaration of Representative J. Lee Smith, a bitter opponent of the whip and a representative who denounced "Walter" Hargraves, a whipping boss, now under indictment for the death of Martin Talbot of North Dakota, that he had been asked to serve as a member of counsel in Hargraves' defense. He said he had declined the offer.

County Judge B. F. Willis of this (Leon) county yesterday was ordered by the Senate to be removed from office, the second local official to be ousted as a result of the death of Martin Talbot. The Senate acted in legislative session on the recommendation of Gov. Hardee that the Judge be removed for "immoral and drunkenness in office."

Several weeks ago the Senate acted favorably on the Governor's recommendation for the removal of Sheriff Poppell, former jailer, who since has died, testifying that the County Judge conspired with Jones to "railroad" convicts and train riders to the Putnam Lumber Co., in which he was admitted the Sheriff received $25 a head. Poppell also testified to the Judge's excessive use of whisky.

Charles E. Brickley, Accused of Theft of $19,000 From Bank.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 15.—Charles E. Brickley, former Harvard gridiron star, and Montgomery & Gibson, local broker, were indicted yesterday in Superior Criminal Court on charges of illegal stock negotiations to which they pleaded not guilty.

Brickley is charged with the theft of $19,000 from the Commercial Trust Co. of this city, arising from the deposit of certain stock of the Boston Hartford Carpet Co. with the bank as security for a loan. The stock was sold without the bank's consent, with the theft of $19,000 from two clients. Both are charged with inducing Kurt E. Starnberg to forge the name of William J. Hargraves, Jr., president of the bank, and depositing alleged forged certificates as security. The accusations as to the theft from clients arose out of the alleged placing of money with Gibson for the purpose of procuring the money for telephone stock. It is claimed that this was done by Starnberg.

Fifth Day's Second Wedding Delayed

By the American Press.

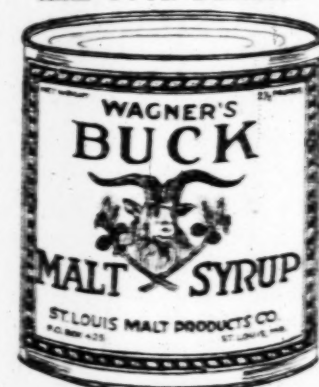

GREENWICH, Conn., May 14.—The marriage of Mr. Sonnewald, bridegroom, to Edith Day, his bride, which was to have taken place here yesterday afternoon, was postponed until Friday afternoon, the explanation being that the divorce of divorce which gave the bride her freedom had not become final.

ITCHING ECZEMA
DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Men-to-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ-destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and discomfort. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

Sizes for Men and Young Men

These Suits are the latest Spring models—and each with an extra pair of trousers. Certainly to obtain them at this remarkably special price should interest economical men, especially when all suits are so splendidly tailored of excellent all-wool fabrics. There are single-breasted, double-breasted, sports and Norfolk models, with conservative styles for the older man and more extreme models for young men.

All-wool fancy cassimeres, worsteds, tweeds, cheviots and homespuns are the materials used in the Suits—the patterns are the newest and there are light, medium and dark shades. All sizes, including stouts, slims and stubs.

HOW SUPPOSED "SUCKER" OUTSLICKERED THE "SLICKERS"

Omaha Man Had Read About Confidence Men and Turned Tables on Two Who Must Go to Prison

By the Associated Press

OMAHA, Neb., May 16.—Carl Todoff, Omaha business man, had read for years about so-called "slickers" and confidence men making away with huge sums rightfully belonging to more or less innocent individuals. Many times Todoff had thought over plans on how he would combat just such an experience should it involve his own purse.

Then one day Todoff met Billie Gorgis—Billie struck up the acquaintance, it was said, "You know, Todoff," Gorgis said, after an extended conversation, "that my friend Lewis E. Doehoff is an intimate friend of the United States Treasurer." Todoff expressed surprise.

"Yes, he knows him well and we can make a lot of money. He will sell us paper that bank notes are made from but no sale can be consummated for less than $10,000. With that paper we can make $1,500,000 in paper money, but I lack about $3000."

"I'll get you the money," Todoff replied, and returned later with $3000 in counterfeit money which he received from the United States Marshal to whom he related the alleged plot. After the two men left Todoff they were "shadowed" to the Union Station, and arrested on a charge of conspiracy to commit larceny. Yesterday the Supreme Court at Lincoln upheld a sentence of two to 10 years imposed on the two men and Todoff boasts of having "outslickered the suckers."

ACT TO AVOID DELAY

Forty-Six Out of 50 Firms Said to Signify Willingness to Co-operate in Boycott Movement.

Mayor Kiel and J. E. Taussig, president of the Wabash Railway, announced today that the city and the railroad would be represented at a conference with a Chamber of Commerce committee, this month, on the controversy over the elimination of the grade crossing of the Wabash on Delmar boulevard.

The conference was decided on by directors of the chamber after a long session yesterday, at which statements were made by city and Wabash representatives, privately. The directors issued a brief announcement afterward that the members of the City Board of Estimates and Apportionment, which includes the Mayor, Comptroller Noel and President Neun of the Board of Aldermen; and President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service, President Taussig and other Wabash officials would be asked to meet a special committee of the chamber, in the hope of arriving at a satisfactory solution of the pending controversy regarding the Delmar crossing, and thus avoid further delay.

Chamber Names Committee. The directors appointed the following committee to represent the chamber: President F. W. A. Yepper, chairman; W. L. Rathmann, Luther T. Ward, J. H. Guntach and J. Lionberger Davis.

Yepper last night wrote the Mayor and Taussig, asking their attendance at the conference and giving the directors' opinion that it should be held "in order to avoid any possibility of long delay in the controversy."

The directors yesterday heard Kinsey and L. R. Bowen, engineer of the Board of Public Service, first, then Taussig, Nathaniel S. Brown, vice president and general solicitor of the Wabash, and A. O. Cunningham, the road's chief engineer.

Many Support Boycott. As is known, the Wabash fought the plan for the elimination of the Delmar boulevard grade crossing for 12 years, but two weeks ago the State Public Service Commission ordered the road to depress its tracks there 60 feet or the erection of a slightly raised street viaduct. Denied a rehearing under this order, the Wabash announced its intention to take an appeal to the courts, which would mean interminable delay. Thereupon a movement was started among a few shippers here to boycott the road, in an effort to force compliance. The road has contended that if a separation must be had its rails should be put on an elevated structure.

E. P. Guth, president of the St. Louis Brass Manufacturing Co., who started the movement to withhold freight from the Wabash today, announced that 46 out of 50 firms which had replied to his circular request to join the movement, answered that they would do so. Of the four who disagreed, he said, two were dealers in railway supplies. Guth had written to all the members of the Chamber of Commerce.

STANDARD OF NEW JERSEY EARNED $46,242,436 IN 1922

Company Reported $12,887,711 and Affiliated Concerns the Remainder.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey yesterday made public the consolidated income account for 1922 of its own and affiliated companies, showing total earnings of $46,242,436, as against $33,845,939 in 1921. The company's own earnings in 1922 totaled $12,887,711 and those of its affiliated companies $33,354,695.

Gross assets taken at book value totaled $1,123,760,800, as against $1,115,929,377 the year before. An increase in the capital stock from $110,000,000 to $625,000,000 last November, and the distribution of a stock dividend of 400 per cent were largely responsible for the reduction in the total surplus from $594,525,562 in 1921 to $206,165,995 on Dec. 31, 1922.

While an active demand for petroleum products obtained through the year, A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of directors, declared in his report to stockholders that the surplus production of crude petroleum adversely affected refinery earnings, as the trend of prices of these products was towards levels relatively lower than the price of crude.

Town No Longer "Dead One." Special to the Post-Dispatch

WASHINGTON.—The force of modern slang has caused the Indian office to change the name of the Arizona reservation from Moqui to Hopi. Moqui means "dead ones" in the Indian tongue and so much resentment has been aroused on the reservation by the frequent application of this translation that an order was issued effecting the change. The new name means "people of peace."

COMMITTEE VOTES FOR WORKHOUSE INQUIRY

Votes Favorable Report on Uhlmeier's Resolution for an Aldermanic Investigation.

The Resolutions Committee of the Board of Aldermen today voted to report favorably a resolution introduced by Alderman Uhlmeier calling for an aldermanic investigation of conditions in the city workhouse. Such an investigation now is under way before the grand jury.

Appointment of a committee of five members of the board, to conduct the inquiry, was recommended by the Resolutions Committee. Instead of three, as proposed in Uhlmeier's resolution.

Doubt as to any results being obtained in the grand jury investigation was expressed by Alderman Uhlmeier yesterday afternoon before he was called into the grand jury room. He was the only witness examined.

Before going before the grand jury, Alderman Uhlmeier told a Post-Dispatch reporter he did not have any first-hand information on irregularities, but if he obtained any information he would place it before a committee of the Board of Aldermen.

When the grand jury went to the workhouse last week, word went down that the jurors were coming," Uhlmeier said, "and they were received as guests and entertained. Everybody knew the visit would be made and it was announced in the newspapers the day before."

He recalled the grand jury spent about an hour at a luncheon prepared for them by the workhouse authorities, and then spent about 35 minutes going through the institution. He said not a great deal of information could be obtained on such a visit. No prisoners were questioned. Uhlmeier spent about 20 minutes in the grand jury room. Circuit Attorney Sidener was called in for a brief conference with the jury and Uhlmeier then was recalled for about 20 minutes. When he came out again, he left the building.

Alderman Uhlmeier's resolution in the Board of Aldermen called for appointment of a committee of three to conduct an investigation, with power to summon witnesses and call for records. The resolution declared that there were rumors that some of the practices of the workhouse administration "were not conducive of the maintenance of a proper standard of discipline among the inmates."

Alderman Uhlmeier previously had told Mayor Kiel that H. N. Moran, the superintendent, spent too much time at the city hall and Municipal Court Building during the day and at the Eagles Club hall at night.

NO ACTION IN EXPLOSION CASE
Grand Jury Devises Rossman Was in No Way Responsible.

After hearing the testimony of police yesterday the grand jury decided that Isadore Rossman of 4640A Newberry terrace was in no way responsible for the explosion and fire April 26 in his Vienna Restaurant and delicatessen at 235-29 De Buire avenue, that demolished the building and damaged other stores in the block. No indictment was returned.

There was no evidence that there was gasoline or explosives in the building.

12 Fined in "Blue-Law" Drive.
ALLIANCE. C.—Municipal Judge M. C. Moore assessed a fine of $25 and costs each against 42 of the 49 men who were haled into court on charges of violating the Sunday closing laws.

The Judge required the fines in each case. Six of the men failed to appear in court, and one pleaded not guilty.

WIFE NO. 1 AND NO. 2 IN ACTOR'S BUNGALOW

Take Turns in Preparing Meals for Occupants of Bungalow in Connecticut.

SPECIAL to the Post-Dispatch. DERBY, Conn., May 14.—On the bank of the wood-trimmed Housatonic ten days ago, two pretty young women stood, one waving a blue and red pennant, the other one of blue and white. Three college crews swept by. Suddenly the noise of an all-blue shell forced out in front and the little flags, limped in tapering fingers, suddenly softened.

Not a word passed. Both women fluttered like mated gulls to a half-finished bungalow thirty feet from the river bank. There sat Roy Cummings, acrobatic dancer and comedian.

"Say, all three of those crews were blue," he remarked. "Losing served you both right. You know the blues don't go around here. How about a little supper?"

And two pretty women again set about to make one man happy and themselves so at the same time in the actors' colony, miles upriver from here. So today, was revealed a love tangle as daring in real life as the wildest author could be in a book.

These two women are living in one love-nest, with one man, both on a tented, satisfied, with things as they are. The law of God and man is being lived up to, all three content and custom alone has been cast to the wind.

Cummings, who jumped into musical comedy fame on Broadway five years ago, and is now 24 years old, married Helen Gladys in Bridgeport, N. J., years ago. She became his dancing partner in vaudeville. She is 28 and they have a girl, Edna, five years old. As Cummings said:

"She was dark, of the Spanish type, with a fiery disposition and I'm red-headed, so we naturally both crashed."

They separated amicably and in 1919 Mrs. Cummings obtained a divorce in Freeport, N. J. Cummings doing the mainly thing.

Home and $1,000,000 Baby.
"I gave her $1,000,000," he said, "room, 11 uppers, $15,000 home in Freeport, a $3500 car, a $1,000,000 baby and a $100 dog."

To that should be added $150 a week alimony.

A year later Cummings met Irene Shaw, a blonde, who was playing with Fred Stone in "Jack of Diamonds." They were married in Orange, N. J., her home. She is 25.

"I didn't realize at the time that both came from Jersey," said Cummings adding that he had taken many chances on the stage, including a swing on a rope over the heads of the audience in the Winter Garden.

"But it turned out all to the good," Cummings added, casting an adoring look at wife No. 2, who sat in the glow of an open fire in the living room of the bungalow and who smiled back at approval. "Now I went to Long Beach for a swim summer before last and we met No. 1. We were downhearted. We were not."

Everything was lovely. The next day No. 2 telephoned to No. 1 and asked her to go for a dip. They turned out the best of friends. Blonde and brunette won't clash, but never try to play the red and black to each other.

This spring we all came to a living agreement. With the summer season approaching and no pay day, no alimony. No. 1 decided to rent the house in Freeport. No. 2 and I had decided to build a bungalow and spend the summer on the Housatonic. Then No. 1 had a bright idea.

Wife No. 1 Invites Herself.
"She figured," Cummings would live as cheaply as one, if they went about it in the right way, each pitching in and sharing the work. She invited herself to spend the summer with us and was accepted. No. 2 grasped the idea and insisted upon her doing so. No. 2 foresaw I would not have to make up back-alimony in the fall and she could have a new fur coat and be trimmings to go with it. Sensible woman that."

There was a smile in the glow that seemed to spell "and I won't forget."

So into the valley of the Housatonic three weeks ago came Cummings with wife No. 1 and No. 2. Little Edna, the dog, Tufts and tent. And in the three weeks they erected the prettiest bungalow in the whole colony. Cummings contracted to do the outside work, that is, build the house. The women agreed to work inside. They did the painting of even the walls, bought the furniture and made the curtains. The place is in the shape of a Maltese cross, which Cummings contends puts a charm on it from the start. There is a living room with red brick floor and a large chimney with the open fireplace in the center that heats throughout, two pink bedrooms with twin beds in each, a third room with a day bed and a kitchen.

There has not been the slightest discord. Wife No. 1 is called "Society" and No. 2 "Bill." Little Edna is "Bibi" and "Bibi" her daddy's new wife "saw" passed to her.

No. 2 cooks lunches and No. 1 dinnings, Cummings explained.

"I have to get the breakfast because they won't get up," he said. "You mean you saw wood in the living room to wake us up," said No. 2 in kindly correction.

No. 1 is in New York for the day shopping.

WORKS NO. 2'S CLOTHES.
"She has on No. 2's clothes," Cummings said. "All she brought here was a fur cape. It has warmed up since and of the things she brought

CELEBRATION SUNDAY IN HONOR OF THE REV. JOHN E. GODBEY

He Is 84 Years Old and Has Been Pastor for Methodist Episcopal Church, South, 62 Years.

A celebration in honor of the Rev. Dr. John E. Godbey of Kirkwood, who has been a pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for 62 years, will be held at the Kirkwood Methodist Church at 10:45 a. m. next Sunday. He will preach and a number of pastors representing this district will take part in the service, including Rev. H. H. Johnson, the local pastor.

The Rev. Dr. Godbey was born in Missouri Aug. 11, 1849, being 84 years old. His father was a Methodist "circuit rider" and used to relate that his salary in the first year of his pastorate was $25. The Rev. Dr. Godbey joined the St. Louis conference as a pastor in 1881, and since then has served in the following positions:

Presiding elder of several districts, pastor of several churches, editor at various times of the South-west Methodist, Arkansas Methodist and St. Louis Christian Advocate, professor of philosophy at Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., member of a commission which established a joint order of service and catechism for the northern and southern branches of Methodism, about 20 years ago, and delegate to four general conferences, which are the quadrennial law-making sessions of the church.

He has spent his life in Missouri and Arkansas. For the last eight years he has been inactive, although he often, treated and performed other services. He has written several books on religious topics, including one which had a distribution of 50,000 copies within four years.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR 4 HELD AFTER PATROLMAN WAS SHOT

Prisoners Charged With Burglary in Second Degree and With Intent to Kill.

Warrants charging four men with burglary in the second degree and assault with intent to kill were issued today as a sequel to an interrupted burglary at a pants factory at 593 North "Eighteenth" street, early yesterday, and the serious wounding of Patrolman Lawrence Treinen.

The warrants name James (Red) Cloud, 37 years old, a chauffeur, 218 North Twenty-first street; Joseph Friedman, 24, a tailor, 3228 Terry avenue; Joseph Bouman, 23, Madison, 11; and Claude Smith, 28, 4215 Vicks avenue.

As was told yesterday, Patrolman Treinen encountered Cloud outside the building. He fired two shots in the air, realizing a burglary was in progress. They were jumped from the building, firing several shots, one of which struck Treinen in the right chest and passed through his body.

Other policemen, who heard the shots, advanced to the scene and three men who were running in the vicinity. These men said they were Friedman, Bouman and Smith.

F. R. Henry Succeeds Stockton.
Frank R. Henry, formerly vice president of the Majestic Manufacturing Co., range manufacturers, has been elected president to succeed F. R. Stockton, who died recently, and who had not taken active part in the business for six or seven years. Carl E. Sommer, secretary, has been made vice president. A. A. Phillips continues as treasurer.

When her stockings garters and garter case are still useful, No. 2 had plenty of shoes and other things, so they fixed it up.

We wear everything the same size except gloves, added No. 2. When I get the garage built and the piping and wiring all in, I think I'll put out a shrimp. Home for Wife No. 2 Cummings added. No. 1 and No. 2 have decided to pick No. 3 if I can't hold No. 2.

And No. 1 put "Ain't We Got Fun" on the phonograph.

The police asked Cummings how the neighbors were.

"Great," he answered. "Surely no one can say I lost any woman again."

He is going into rehearsals next week for "The Spire of 1914," the new Winter Garden show. No. 2 is going with him, and No. 1 will remain in the Housatonic.

Federation's Convention Here Devoted to Bettering Economic Conditions of Union Members.

Among the 20 resolutions submitted by delegates on the floor of the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians, in the first two days of its sessions at Hotel Chase, are several relating to finance, conditions of employment, location of the next convention, and one asking for an increase in the pay of musicians with traveling shows, but there are none having to do with the advancement of music or relating to it in any way.

Resolution No. 25, referred to the Laws Committee, asks that the week's pay of traveling show musicians be increased from $45 to $75 on week stands and from $70 to $90
"when playing broken weeks."

There were other resolutions suggesting support of labor banks, two referring to salaries of circus and carnival bands, in which the pay would be $40 a week for players and $65 for leaders, and one stipulating that the same prices should prevail for minstrel show bands as that of carnival bands.

"This is purely a business meeting," officials explain the lack of musical discussion. The federation is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and its annual convention is not a gathering to discuss musical opinions, ideas and developments, but to find methods of bettering the musicians' economic situation.

The musicians feel that their art will be enhanced by this, because, as President Joseph N. Weber explained, they can give more time to music if they know their income is sufficient to afford comfortable living.

Community Plan Advocated.

Buttle musicians, outside the convention sessions, occasionally "work shop." D. A. Carey, member of the executive board, and Fred T. Stevenson, delegates from Toronto, are agreed, in separate interviews, that in Canada music has been greatly developed with recent years by what they term the "community plan."

"We have forwarded public appreciation of good music by promoting public concerts and contests among the schools," Carey said. "In Toronto next season we are going to have a 75-piece symphony orchestra, which is common in this part of the country, perhaps, but unique in Canada. It will be the first and only symphony orchestra in the dominion."

Interest in music in Canada, Carey added, is due in a large measure to the work of the federation of musicians, which has labored throughout its organization for the education of the public to good music.

"Our new symphony has the backing of the community," Stevenson related. "We are going to raise $50,000 to support the orchestra."

National Movement Growing.

Asked whether Canada, or the United States either, was developing a national school of art in music
as distinct from the art of Europe, Carey replied that while this movement was growing gradually and that American composers were abovely gaining renown, "it takes a long time for such a growth."

"Many of the old masters were not recognized until they were old men or after their death," he pointed out.
"It may be we have among us today men who are or will be masters, and in a new line of musical expression."

Hugh Frayne of New York, representative of the American Federation of Labor, told delegates of the importance of strong organization, and expressed the ideal of the labor movement as a desire of men to live better with their fellow men.

"No trade union has the right to go against the law of the land," Frayne said. "We teach that he shall be a good citizen, helping to uphold the country and its laws."

Frayne, discussing the labor situation, asserted there is no shortage of labor, while in others there is a shortage. Employers are putting out this labor shortage scare. They want more immigrants, so as to force down the labor wage scale and break up union organization. There is no shortage, but where the pay is 25 or 40 cents an hour, it will always be hard to find men to work.

"The open shop" has failed, and we will hear less and less of it. Trade unions do not want closed shops.
The trade union door is always open to any who desire to come in."

THE POST-DISPATCH PLAT-FORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privilege and public plunder, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be swayed by merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

The name and address of the author must accompany each contribution, but no request will be published. Letters not exceeding 200 words will receive preference.

The Taxi War.

THE only taxi company in the city employing nonunion drivers must be getting desperate when it endeavors to injure the reputations of its former employees by inference. Its charge that union men are responsible for attacks on their employees is an effort to intimidate their patrons in a most unbecoming manner. In fact, they have never been able to make a case or prove a charge. Their own statement that "of 150,000 patrons handled only six received minor injuries as a result of hoodlums' attacks" is in itself evidence that we are not in fact hoodlums, and that we have, as a whole, been pretty decent.

The statement that a majority of former employees did not will not go out on strike is either a wilful falsehood or a display of gross ignorance. The question of strike was submitted in the usual manner, and the vote to strike was unanimous. The men went out 100 per cent and have stayed out 100 per cent up to date. The advertisement appearing in the papers is intended to brand all union taxi drivers as hoodlums.

The reputation of a taxi company is what their drivers make it, and this company is still getting lower and its reputation established by these former employees whom they now call hoodlums. Most of these men are still in the taxi business, some in business for themselves, others driving for the companies who are willing to pay living wages for reasonable service.

ONE OF THE "HOODLUMS"

Youth in the Parks.
 HAVING read your article in the evening paper of May 2, I think those of us who have very little to do when they are trying to stop the young people from parking their cars in Forest Park. The park is for the people, and the young people are welcome to it. They are not doing one-tenth as much wrong as these 40 women are doing when they are gathered together, making evil out of simple loitering.

In the long passage of years they have forgotten their own youth. Probably, when young and attractive, they did not care a thing, but I don't believe they did. I am a girl of 18, and I certainly uphold these young, simple lovers, and millions more like me.

EIGHTEEN

Ode to the Comic Artists.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 I WANT to tell you how I laugh. At pictures your cartoonists make. I laugh until I nearly burst. These pictures make me take the cake. No matter how, and I may feel. These pictures always cheer me up. The way they are funny, every one. They put joy in my cup.

Those jolly men! God bless them all. They do a lot of good. To everyone who reads their stuff. We laugh—and so we should. When I ride and read the funny stuff. Don't seem to care who runs the world. The comic artists are good.

I see the readers here and there. And hear them frequently laugh loud. At all that comic bunch of junk. Oh, those artists we are proud. The joy and mirth they bring to us. We thank them, and we love them. God bless them! May they all live long. Be they either short or tall.

I said I laughed till I'd near burst. I just can't help it, sir. If I keep on I'll surely die. My skin won't fit my face. Now I'm some cracked, too, myself. Yet still I have no brains. So you'll excuse all my mistakes. Must stop the daylight waves.

IDA.

An Appreciation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 A S president of the Y. M. C. A., permit me to thank you in behalf of the organization for the courtesies extended by your paper to the organization in its efforts to secure $100,000 for a new building. That the campaign has oversubscribed its quota of $100,000 by $11,700 was possible only through the interest of all of these agencies in St. Louis who sincerely endeavored to make this noble enterprise a reality. I feel sure that the new Y. M. C. A. building when completed will be an asset to the entire community, and an institution to which all of St. Louis may look with pride.

DAVID SOMMER.

Bicycles On the Sidewalk.

NOT long ago I was on account in the paper of an elderly man having his skull fractured by being hit with a bicycle that was ridden on the sidewalk by a messenger. With the warm weather having opened up, it is a common thing to see boys riding and even seeing their parents on the sidewalks. My little girl three years old was hit by one, and narrowly escaped serious injury. There are more dangerous to children and grown-ups than are the auto messengers in the street, as no one expects to get hit on the sidewalk and is not on the lookout. There should be a law to stop them, and there is such a law it should be enforced.

A CITIZEN.

THE EUROPEAN MADHOUSE.

The news from Europe suggests bulletins from the heart of madness, where nationalist and race hatreds, vengeance, ambitions and greed reign and confound all the counsels of wisdom and peace. England quarrels with Russia, and France makes war upon Germany, while Germany faces dismemberment on the one side and revolution on the other, both leading to ruin. Turkey profits by the quarrels of the allies. Neither Italy nor Belgium has the strength to establish peace, but follows the leadership of the others.

The Russian menace and the Turkish imbroglio have no apparent connection with the question of reparations and the peace settlement with Germany, yet both of them, and all the present troubles of Europe, are results of that dangerous tangle.

France is determined to work her will upon Germany and subordinate all other interests to that end. She is willing to risk everything for herself and her allies to gain her point—to seize German resources and bring Germany into complete submission.

Great Britain, with her empire threatened at many points and with the menace of war in the East, cannot afford to break with France—feels it imperative for her own and the general interest to maintain friendly relations—so postures to the French aims in Germany.

The British statesmen know that Germany cannot pay the reparations demanded of her and that the French method will never get reparations. They know that the only way to get reparations is through the rehabilitation and restoration of German industry and trade and that France is destroying both. Germany cannot even pay the reparations she offered except out of the earnings of industry and trade with foreign countries. Granting all that is charged against the German profiteers and all the charges of German bad faith and evasion, the actual truth is that Germany cannot pay a thing unless she is free to produce and to sell—to utilize her whole resources of industrial and commercial organization and her man power in unremitting toil. If she is deprived of freedom and opportunity to do this not only default upon all reparations is certain, but ruin is inevitable.

The French statesmen and the statesmen of other allied countries know this, but as Norman Angell has repeatedly charged, the statesmen will not face realities or tell the truth; they are afraid to tell the truth on account of politics, and so feed passion, prejudice and ignorance, to the utter confusion of the public mind.

American statesmen will not tell the truth. They are playing politics and appealing to passion, prejudice and partisanship. President Harding knows the danger confronting the world. Mr. Hughes knows it, yet they do not instruct the people and deal only in gestures and postures.

Until the people learn the truth and insist that the truth be told, that sham be abandoned and that realities be faced and met, there can be no remedy. Meanwhile chaos is in the pot and may boil over at any moment.

There is only one way to settle the reparations question, and thus open the way to co-operation on the part of the stronger nations for order and peace. That is to refer the question of what Germany should and can pay to an impartial commission of experts in business and economics. Germany embodied this suggestion in her offer, but it was ignored. She is helpless to act. No sane action will be taken until the statesmen responsible for governmental action speak and act in accord with truth and reality—in accord with actual facts and existing conditions. Cowardice and sham will set the world nowhere except farther on the road to the collapse of civilization.

HIRAM HAS BEEN THERE.

If you information is correct Hiram Johnson's investigating tour of Europe is a sheer fake. "The Californian" writes our distinguished correspondent, Ferdinand Tuohy, from Paris, "has not really come into things on this side. He has been enjoying a holiday and avoiding contacts that matter, such as Essen, Lausanne and Moscow. Johnson's attitude is absolute and unalterable. He might have sought mental jets from famous persons on this side; he did not. Como and Cannes are scarcely pulsating centers, but for isolationists they suffice."

Many American leaders of public, business and financial life have been touring Europe in the past two years to observe conditions. They have had an honest curiosity and have accumulated facts. These facts have been disconcerting to isolationists and convincing to the unprejudiced. They both agreed Senator Johnson, who had never left our shores. When one of these travelers would say, "I have been abroad and seen this with my own eyes," Senator Johnson could not answer.

Henceforth he can say that he, too, was in Europe and has seen. He is carefully selecting what he is to see, however, with the determination that he shall see nothing that will change his mind. It is as if a New Yorker came to St. Louis to investigate Missouri and carefully remained in one of our out-of-town hotels.

Hiram Johnson did not go to Europe to learn. He went to be able to return and say: "I know I've been there."

MECHANICAL ANGELS OF RELIEF.

The Hot Springs disaster reminds us with a shock that the only highways which are never interrupted are the highways of the air. The famed resort city was cut off from all communication with the outside world at 5:30 p. m. Monday. All that was heard of the place the following night and most of the next day was by indirect report, which was fragmentary and inane. The town might have been wiped out completely and the world would not have been the wiser. Wires were down, railroads washed out and roads obstructed.

The predicament of Hot Springs proclaims the need of modern communication for all communities. A radio broadcasting apparatus might have apprised the world of the situation immediately. Preparedness would have enabled surrounding cities to send quick airplane relief. We should have known as much of the progress of a disaster in Little Rock or San Francisco as in Maplewood. Airplanes from many surrounding towns and cities could have brought all the assistance both in material and personnel that any disaster might have required.

The day is coming when every hamlet in America will have its complete radio station and airplane, or many of them, for the sending or receiving of news of moment and the dispatching of aid in the kind and quantity needed on almost instant notice.

That Piggy Wiggly man who ventured into Wall street seems to have lost everything but the squeal.

THE PULITZER PRIZES.

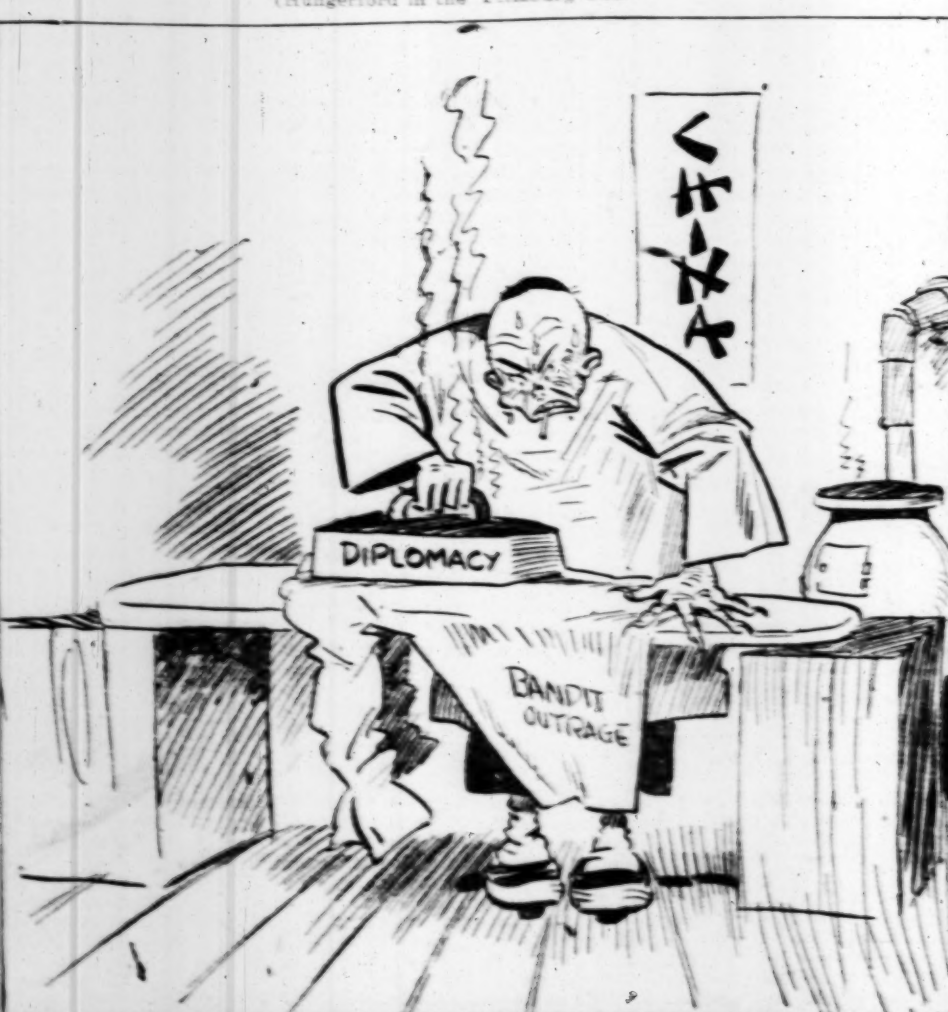

The Joseph Pulitzer prizes annually awarded for achievements in journalism and letters have a value that extends far beyond professional confines. For instance, the prize editorial this year written by William Allen White, a Kansan of the Kansas state in exceptional moods and circumstances, preaches a philosophy which Kansas has never practiced. If there is one State in the Union which, more than another, has plumbed itself upon repression and capitalized intolerance, that State is Kansas. The simple, eloquent plea for freedom of speech and thought which the Sage of Emporia addressed to his personal friend, the Governor, in a situation peculiarly dramatic, will be read and pondered as it would not have been except for the distinction conferred upon it by the Pulitzer committee. It should be an educational message of especial force to Mr. White's own State.

The prize that should prove of greatest public value, however, is that awarded to Charles Warren. "The Supreme Court in United States History," as the best book of the year on the history of the United States. At a time of considerable dissatisfaction with that tribunal, when high officials are proposing in effect to divest it of a vital function, it is important that the American people should be informed as to the court's origin and development and the influence of its decisions on our national life. The book does this. It may not become a best seller by reason of the certificate of excellence that has been issued to it, but it is fair to presume that the volume will find its way into many minds that otherwise might never meet it.

In short, the Pulitzer prizes are by way of being classic advertising. They make authentic appeal to the imagination of thoughtful citizens. They render sound and extensive service in popularizing the worth while.

Our taxi drivers seem to be out for the nonstop scraping record.

FREE VERSE.

BEYOND St. Charles are the Mamelles, so-called by the French because they are rolling and beautiful like a woman's breasts. The Puritans would have called them the Little Abominations or something of that sort, being bound to be blind to what they really resemble and say nothing about it.

Not so the French, who were kind enough to found St. Charles before the Puritans got there and thus left upon the region the impress of beauty instead of nothing that anybody would care about now.

But let us go back to the Mamelles and look down from their swelling slopes, waving with the green wheat, into a great alfalfa field beside the road.

There is something in that field we want to show you—

Something we do not often see around St. Louis.

This is the season when the bobolinks go North, and for some days they have been coming feeding and singing in that alfalfa.

The bobolink is like a small blackbird with white on his back and buff on the back of his head.

He is a singularly sweet and beautiful singer, and when the old English field goes back and forth in the field—

Up and down—

Out to the fence and up the trees—

Down to the road and over to the Mamelles—

As if blown by the wind.

You have never heard anything like that, perhaps.

You think of a bobolink as some sort of bird, singing solitary upon a reed not doing anything in particular.

You have never thought of it in terms of a great chorus traveling about like the Ukrainian Choir or the Czech-Slovakian Chorus or the Symphony Orchestra—

Interpreting Spring to the farmers, who are none too fond of these days—

Showing what might be done by co-operative farm movements—

Teaching appreciation of the Mamelles—

And elevating generally all spiritual things without which there can be no back-to-the-farm movement, but only the great cries perishing of starvation and clutching to their breasts their useless gold.

FREE SPEECH IN VIRGINIA.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.
 THOUGH out of his position as a teacher in the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington for the crime of declaring that Arkansas negroes who defended themselves against a white mob and were convicted thereof of murder by a white jury should have a fair show, Prof. Robert T. Kerin would not find a white lawyer who would take up such a case for a fellow Caucasian, but to employ negro attorneys and is now denying redress by the court of last resort in the Old Dominion. Clearly enough free speech, it is what prevails in the State of the fearless Patrick Henry, and of Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence, rashly asserting that all men were created free and equal, a Virginia may say what it pleases about the fourth amendment, or the Miller War. Despite prohibition, he may prefer freely the most heterodox notions about putting even whisky in cocktails. He may even defend his drunkenness and get away with it. But if he dares to say as much as he has said about freedom of speech, he will be as ashamed of himself, and that the shade of Thomas Jefferson, who at all times thought that persist in every fair and honest mind.

 THE French have solved the problem of building big guns that will shoot over a hundred miles. Moreover, they have found how to reduce the war and tear on the rifling, so that their guns can shoot hundreds of shells instead of the 40 of the late big Berthas. With these guns, even Gen. Herr, artillery chief of the French army, believes a host that equal power for the American army is wise as well as honest in the line of freedom—Off with his head, so much for Buckingham.

EDISON DECLARES
MOVIES BEST FOR TEACHING CHILDREN

"Won't Be Any Truants if You Make Pictures Good,"
He Says — Sees Adoption
Within 20 Years.

By Leased Wire From the New York

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 16.—Thomas A.
Edison believes that whoever controls the motion picture industry wields the most powerful educational medium of today. He says, with equal sincerity, that when educators properly utilize films this country will become a nation of highbrows.

"I think that in 20 years all the children will want to go to school.
There won't be any truants if you make the pictures good," said the inventor.

Edison expressed these views yesterday as a witness for the Government at the Famous Players-Lasky film inquiry being conducted to decide whether the film corporation is to be classed a trust.

His hands trembled slightly as he read the typewritten questions prepared for him, because of his deafness. He smiled as he glanced over the questions and always hesitated before answering, but spoke with confidence and accuracy. So well defined were his answers that counsel for Famous Players-Lasky did not cross-examine him.

Unconcerned by controversy,
he seemed entirely unconcerned about any controversy between the Federal Trade Commission and Famous Players-Lasky. He said he had been out of the business of producing motion pictures 10 years, but was extremely interested in educational subjects.

At present pictures of that type are being partly neglected, but in the future, he said, they will be much more popular than those depending on dramatic narratives. Edison was asked to explain why.

"I got it in my head that it would be fine to teach children by motion pictures. I had a visionary scheme of putting over around the schools of the United States these complex things to children, to see how it worked," he said. "You know De-win was right. We are very immature, especially young people. They will remember anything they see."

He told of how he took 50 children ranging in age from 12 to 16 and tried it on them. "I made a motion picture and took my school boys chemistry and physics. After class saw the picture they went home and I had their mothers write down what they had remembered. They had remembered a great deal. I then re-made the parts they hadn't understood. Finally I got as high as 80 to 90 per cent understanding by the little folk."

Opposed by Publishers, Edison then disclosed what had taken place several years after he had attempted to produce pictures of educational value. He told how members of the Board of Education went over to his plant to see them and went back to New York did nothing.

"I saw I had bitter opposition from book publishers and I knew defeat of my plan was certain, so I gave up," declared Edison.

Edison said he believed 50 per cent of knowledge is received through the eye and not through the ear.

"You can't get much through the ear save music," remarked the inventor. "Motion pictures are 100 per cent perfect for teaching anything."

He then recalled an incident that took place in his laboratory and described how motion pictures will be an important part of business. A poor inventor who had patented a beer bottling apparatus came to him and asked to have his machine put in motion pictures. The man had labored years with his invention, but with no success. Edison took a motion picture of it, described it in detail and the man went to Europe. A few months later he had sold $500, 000 worth of stock and eventually became a wealthy man.

"Children resent books,"
"In a few years educational pictures will be exhibited in every theater. Schools and colleges will adopt them for teaching and the dramatic and comedy films will be a minor attraction. Children resent books. They don't like them, but they would sit all day and look at a picture."

Asked how he would make an educational picture interesting, he explained that when he remade the picture of chemistry and physics he made it attractive by putting a little boy and girl in it.

"The children watched them and did not forget what they did. You can teach them without any suspicion of their being taught," Edison explained.

Edison was asked what effect the motion picture has upon the conduct, taste and manners of people, and he replied: "It can improve their morals or do otherwise."

The inventor told how he conceived the idea of inventing a motion picture. It was in 1887. He wanted to do for the eye what he had done for the ear. His first apparatus, which produced 48 pictures a second, was the kinetograph. It was not a projection machine, but contained an endless tape. One looked through an aperture at a revolving tape and saw the motion.
Edison said he did not patent the foreign rights at the time, as he did not know enough about the motion picture business.

J. J. Taylor, United States Commissioner of Education, another purpose for the Government, testified that he thought ultimately the use of pictures will be educational rather than commercial.

"The result of education in the United States is more effective through motion pictures than through any other methods," said Tigart.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR CHILDREN

Fleet Ordered to Tampico When Huerta Refused to Allow Salute to Flag As Atonement for Arrest of Sailors.

Mexico for the Mexicans.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

IT is hard to write a history of events which have just taken place. Too many of us have been there and seen for ourselves, and as no two men ever see alike, there are too many conflicting accounts to draw from. Again, it is impossible to say whether what happened yesterday is worthy of a place in history or not. We must wait to see whether it is going to have any effect upon what happens tomorrow. And so I shall not attempt to give you any detailed account of what occurred during the administration of President Taft (1909-1913) and of President Wilson (1913-1921).

The late war is too big a subject for me to touch upon in this brief sketch of American history, and a list of the various bills passed by Congress during the term of Mr. Taft would make dull reading. Let me instead tell you a little about our next door neighbor, Mexico, and why we did, or didn't, go down there a few years ago.

For many years the President of Mexico was one Porfirio Diaz, who seems to have ruled wisely enough, if none too well. At any rate, he held on to his job for a record breaking length of time, and he attracted a great deal of foreign capital into his country by letting out its mines and oil fields to prominent citizens of the United States and other countries.

The natives, into whose ragged pockets fell none of the returns for these vast concessions, began to feel alarmed over the arrival of so many foreigners in their country. In 1910, under the leadership of Francisco Madero, they raised the cry "Mexico for the Mexicans," and drove President Diaz, who was contemplating an eighth term of office, out of the country.

Madero was elected President, but his promised reforms were not forthcoming, and in 1913 he was murdered by the new champion of the people, General Huerta, who eight days later was proclaimed President.

Civil war now broke out between the new President and his followers and the friends of the murdered Madero, led by Venustiano Carranza and Francisco Villa. President Wilson, who had been watching these political upheavals with great disapproval, now sent John Lind of Minnesota to Mexico to explain that the United States could not approve of the murder of President Madero, and that they must stop fighting and elect a new President, no matter who, so long as it was not General Huerta. Lind, who seems to have had a deeper understanding of the racial characteristics of the Scandinavians than of the Mexicans, did not make a very good job out of the mission, and President Wilson felt it wise to advise all United States citizens to leave Mexico.

A little while later, in April of 1914, some United States sailors, who had landed at Tampico to buy gasoline, were arrested and held for a few hours by an overzealous official, acting without orders. When they were released their Admiral in command requested an official apology, and ordered the Mexican officer in command at Tampico to salute the American flag. Huerta refused to permit this. The U. S. fleet was ordered to Mexico, and for 10 days the matter dragged along, and still the Stars and Stripes remained unsaluted.

TO OFFER our patrons every financial service is not so much a policy with us as it is a principle. We started a Christmas Club last December because there seemed to be a demand for it. Its success has prompted us to start a Vacation Club, to help you finance a vacation by advance instead of deferred payments. You are invited to join the Club this week, and be a charter member.

President

—to help you run your job
a little better—

A Vacation Club

HAVE you heard the call that comes this time every year, along with the first straw hat and the budding flowers? It's the wanderlust of Spring, with thoughts of vacation time. The prospect of getting away for a while helps you tackle your job with renewed energy.

☐ The call will come again next year, and our Vacation Club will help you solve the money side of answering it. Deposits are regulated by the amount you can save weekly, or by the amount you want to have next year when the call comes. Fifty cents a week for 50 weeks will give you $25 and interest on May 1, 1924. One dollar a week will give you $50 and interest—$2 a week, $100 and interest—$5 a week, $250 and interest. The Club starts this week. Use one or any combination of the plans. Be a charter member.

The Victory Liberty Loan Has Finished Its Job

REMEMBER, back in 1918, when you were inspired by that poster to buy Victory Notes and "finish the job"? Now the Notes have finished their job, half of the issue having been called for payment last December and the other half maturing May 20. None of the Victory Notes will bear interest after that date, and your money invested in them must be put to work in some other manner.

☐ We offer our services in redeeming your notes. Bring them in this week, before the rush, and we will accept them as a cash deposit on a savings account, exchange them for some other safe security, or give you cash for them. There will be no charge for this service, and we will redeem the Notes at par and accrued interest.

☐ The Victory Liberty Loan has finished its job. Bring your Notes in now, and give your money another job of earning interest in a safe place.

Woman Ends Life With Poison.
Mrs. Emma Bortas, 22 years old of 2317 Pennsylvania avenue, died at City Hospital at 8 a. m. today from poison which she had swallowed half an hour before at her home. Her husband, Harry Bortas, a landscape gardener, told the police she had been dependent over ill-health.

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN CASE OF BOY HIT BY AUTO
Witnesses Testify That Lad Stepped in Front of Machine That Knocked Him Down.

A CORPSE verdict of accident today in the case of Vernon W. Bonnard, 7 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bonnard of 4518 N. 14th street, who was injured yesterday at 1:40 p. m. at Taylor and Evans, when he was struck by a motor car driven by David N. Oberschmidt, an ice and coal dealer.

Testimony was that following a game of tag, Vernon had started in company with a playmate to cross from the east to the west side of Taylor avenue and that Vernon had been run down by Oberschmidt's machine unavoidably.

William C. Lowe, motorist of a southbound Taylor avenue car, testified he had noticed both boys crossing the east curb of Taylor avenue from a side window and saw them attempt to cross once more when Vernon was knocked over by Oberschmidt's automobile.

Vernon's companion was Harry Davis, 4 years old, of 4319 N. 14th street, who attended the 4th judicial municipal school with him. His testimony agreed with that of the motorist.

Mrs. Anna Gabel of St. John's school, who was with the children, testified the machine was going slowly and that the accident was unavoidable.

Two Children Hurt in Auto Accident.

Marie Krug, 5, of 217 Walnut street, suffered a fractured skull, fractured collar bone and internal injuries when she walked from between two parked automobiles near her home and was knocked over by the automobile of Leslie Gabley, of 120 Wyoming street at 1 p. m. yesterday.

Winnie Jinks, 11, of 4422A Arroyo, suffered injuries to the back, neck and shoulders when she was struck at Ninth and Olive streets at 8 p. m. by an automobile driven by Lawrence Schramm, of 1484 Maple avenue.

John Johnson, 14, of 2111 Olive street, suffered a fractured skull when knocked over at 3:15 p. m. by an automobile driven by Richard L. Rawlings, 4122A Botanical avenue, in front of 4208 Laclede avenue. After striking Johnson, the automobile swerved into a westbound Laclede car discharging passengers.

Mrs. Emma Birkenmaier, 78, of 4212 Teller street, suffered a fractured right leg, internal injuries and cuts when struck at 8 a. m. by an automobile driven by Roy Wansel, 8413 Gravois road. Mrs. Birkenmaier had alighted from a northbound Chevrolet car with her husband and was crossing to the west side of Gravois avenue when struck.

Samuel Williams, a negro street cleaner of 1134 North Twelfth street, suffered lacerations of the head and left elbow at 2 p. m. when struck by an automobile driven by Miss Virginia Richardson of 4434A McPherson avenue. Miss Richardson was backing up on McPherson into Rosedale avenue when her machine knocked over Williams, who was working in the street.

Joyful Family Reunion

Dr. Arthur Gordon Webster, noted physicist regarded self as Failure.

WOBURN, Mass., May 14.—Dependency caused by a belief that his contemporaries did not appreciate his efforts at scientific research, caused the suicide yesterday of Dr. Arthur Gordon Webster, internationally known physicist, in his office at Clark University.

While a class in physics awaited him he retired to his office and fired two bullets through his head. He was taken to a hospital and died a few minutes after arrival.

He had obtained a permit to carry a revolver a few hours before. After addressing his students Monday he informed them it was the last time he would speak to them from the platform, after he was read.

A note addressed to his son read: "Dear Gordon: This is the only way. For years I have been a failure. My research has been worthless. Every one else knows it and physics has got away from me and I cannot come back. Everything I have started has failed. The students will not come, and they will not come. I am sure you will not see. She will get over this. Take care of her. I am sorry for the trouble I have caused you. I am sure you will make a much trouble. Do your best and tell the truth. With love, Dad."

For nearly a year Dr. Webster has frequently talked despondently saying he had "failed" and that no one appreciated his efforts in research work.

Ailing Children Get Well on Syrup Pepsin

A small dose at bedtime brings relief and laughter by morning.

HOSPITAL and doctor's records prove that 75 per cent of human illness has its origin in the intestinal canal, complicated with what is commonly called constipation. Realizing what that means, mothers should contrive methods of handling their children while they still control them that will prevent these future dangers. Teach children regularity of bowel movement, and be especially watchful of young girls. Insist on two passages a day, until the age of 18, when one is usually sufficient. Give plenty of oranges and apples, plenty of butter because it lubricates the intestines, and encourage the drinking of water.

If you detect restlessness, belching, gas or wind on the stomach, sleeplessness, or lack of appetite, examine the tongue and you will find it coated, accompanied by unpleasant breath. The child is bilious, constipated. According to age, give from one-half to a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy dealer that will give me a liberal free sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle sufficient for an adequate trial. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 521 Washington St., Montclair, Illinois. Do it now.

Syrup Pepsin, which children never object to taking as they like the taste. By morning the youngster will be well again. Likewise if the nostrils are stuffed up or there is persistent sneezing, a dose of Syrup Pepsin will break up the fever and cold.

Mrs. Geo. N. Colson of Bernard, Mo., keeps her family well in that way, and Mrs. Ida A. Burkett of Carroll, La., who has been using Syrup Pepsin for a dozen years, has raised her three children on it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable compound of Eucalyptus, senega and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. The formula, however, is on every package. Druggists have sold it with satisfaction to their customers for over 30 years, and it is now the largest selling family laxative in the world. Buy a bottle today. It will last you for months, and the cost is only about a cent a dose.

Why Are Some Storekeepers So Obstinate?

I am an old-fashioned buyer of the necessities for my household. I go to the store myself. To me this work is not irksome. In fact, I like it. I like to look at the shelves so full of cans and packages of so many colors. I like to do this for the same reason that I don't mind being in a crowd.

When in a crowd I look for familiar faces. When I see them I am delighted. When I am in a store I look for familiar goods and when I see them I buy. Those goods have become familiar to me through advertising and I have noticed that the grocery men who have the most of those familiar packages somehow or other seem to always go ahead.

I went into a store, not of my own choosing but with a friend who, among other things, asked for a very well known article of food which is packed in a can, although she did not ask for any specific kind. I always buy and instinctively I told her that was the kind she should ask for.

The dealer overheard me and said, "Madam, I never sell that article. I sell instead something very much better, my own brand."

Then he launched into a five-minute talk on why this article was better than the one I had named. But somehow my friend had been convinced by what I had suggested and she did not buy that can which the grocer offered.

And I thought as I walked out how stubborn and obstinate that man was.

CONDITIONS ARE SATISFACTORY, VETERANS' BUREAU HEAD SAYS

Hines Concludes Inspection of District Office and New Hospital for Ex-Service Men

After inspecting the new Veterans' Hospital, south of Jefferson Barracks, and the offices of the United States Veterans' Bureau for this district, 6501 Delmar boulevard, yesterday, Brigadier-General Frank T. Hines, who was appointed Director-General of the bureau three months ago, expressed satisfaction with the condition he encountered.

His visit was for the purpose of finding out what the bureau's facilities were and to become acquainted with the personnel in charge. He expressed a conviction that better results would be obtained by having fewer, but better paid men do the bureau's work. The American Legion Rehabilitation Committee recommended to him the establishment of a new hospital for tubercular veterans in this district. The General came from Kansas City and Excelsior Springs, Mo., yesterday morning, and departed in the evening for Chillicothe, O.

Plans are afoot in the American Legion to have all Missouri posts canvass their memberships to see if there are any complaints against the Veterans' Bureau, for investigation.

MANUFACTURERS ARE URGED TO FIGHT NATIONALIZATION OF COAL

Former Governor Cornwell of West Virginia Expects Miners to Fight Out Issue With Strike

NEW YORK, May 16.—John J. Cornwell, former Governor of West Virginia, today urged the National Association of Manufacturers to "take a definite stand against nationalization of coal." "I feel certain that sooner or later the miners' organization will make an issue of the nationalization of the coal mines and will fight it out with a strike," he said.

"Whatever our troubles may be with respect to the fuel supply, it seems to me that we should set our faces sternly against the proposition of yielding to this demand."

If the miners and other organized labor groups carry their fight successfully through Congress, he asserted, the labor groups also would be powerful enough to fix their own rates of pay and determine their own working conditions.

Cornwell said he believed that the large consumers could aid in stabilizing distribution if they were able to store a larger quantity of coal than they ordinarily do and thus stretch coal production over the entire year.

9 HOUSES DAMAGED BY WATER AS RESULT OF FAULTY SEWER

Residences in Vicinity of Mackland and Bischoff Avenues Flooded by Surface Water

Nine houses in the vicinity of Mackland and Bischoff avenues were damaged by water late yesterday afternoon when the sewer at that corner was unable to handle surface water. A police report states that a 24-inch sewer constructed in a new subdivision south of Bischoff avenue is connected with an old 12-inch sewer at Bischoff and Mackland avenues and that this was responsible for the flood.

Houses reported damaged were as follows: Samuel Parnio, 5313 Bischoff avenue; Conchetta Parnio, 5315 Bischoff avenue; Samuel Russo, 5319 Bischoff avenue; Joseph Giammo, 5325 Bischoff avenue; Chris Mazzola, 5343 Bischoff avenue; Vincent de Philippo, 5347 Bischoff avenue; Samuel Spinle, 5357 Bischoff avenue; Anthony Puricello, 5324 Bischoff avenue; and Henry Odani, 5112 Edwards street.

A large section of the roof of a two-family two-story brick flat at 5211 Murdoch avenue, owned by G. A. Asche, caved in at 10 a. m. yesterday. Asche believes the upper section of the wall one side of the building became weakened by water, permitting the roof to slip.

Suspect in Patrolman's Death Said to Have Passed Through West Virginia Town in Auto

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—The most definite trace of John Leonard Whitfield, sought as the slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin since he disappeared from here Friday, was received from Mayor J. A. Quick of Cedar Grove, W. Va., early today, according to local police.

A roadster answering the description of that in which Whitfield and a girl companion, known as Mary Price, left here was seen passing through Cedar Grove Sunday. The license number corresponded to that appearing on Whitfield's machine. A man and a woman were in the car.

SEEKS DIVORCE FROM TEACHER

Suit for divorce was filed today by Mrs. Edna M. Bishop of the Harlan Court apartments, 2451 Delmar boulevard, against George W. Bishop, a teacher of chemistry and physics at Cleveland High School. Albany and the custody of a 15-year-old daughter are asked.

The petition alleges that Bishop, slumped and struck his wife, was quarrelsome and used bad language. It states they were married April 27, 1907, and separated last February, and alleges that Bishop is worth $10,000 and has a salary of $2,000 a year.

We Note That in the Fifth Avenue Hotel Stakes Guest of Honor Was a Bit Late in Arriving CARDS 1, BOSTON 0, AFTER 6 INNINGS; DOAK ON MOUND

By Joseph F. Holland,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

BOSTON, Mass., May 16.—Rube Marquard, pitching his thirteenth season in the National League, stood between the Cardinals and a clean sweep in the three-game series in today's final with the Braves. The only defeat the Rubes has suffered this season was due to an error in the ninth inning.

Bill Doak, who had won three straight since the Cardinals asked, was on the mound for the Braves. The day was dark, with threatening rain, entirely suited to Doak's pitching style.

The Cardinals leave after the game for New York and open a three-game series with the Brooklyn Dodgers tomorrow.

FIRST INNING.
CARDINALS—Marquard faced out. Blades, Mann was safe on Kopp's fumble. Marquard struck right, Mann stopping at second. Bottomley popped to Boeckel, Toporcer was picked off first, Marquard to Menzies. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.
CARDINALS—Stock singled to right, Myers sacrificed, Marquard to Menzies. Freigan struck out. Clemons flied to Poff. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.
CARDINALS—Doak lined to Felix. Blades got three bases when Powell muffed his fly. Mann singled to left, scoring Blades. Toporcer struck out. Bottomley singled to right, putting Mann on third. Stock forced Bottomley. Ford to Kopp. ONE RUN.

FOURTH INNING.
CARDINALS—Myers fanned. So did Freigan. Clemons lined to Felix. NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.
CARDINALS—Marquard tossed out Doak. Kopp threw out Blades. Mann was safe on Kopp's wide throw. Toporcer flied to Felix. NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.
BOSTON—Stock threw out Ford. Kopp singled to right. O'Neil struck, Marquard lined to Freigan. Powell struck out. NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.
CARDINALS—Doak flied out. Blades walked. Mann flied to Powell. Toporcer singled to center, sending Blades to third. Bottomley forced Toporcer. Kopp to Ford. NO RUNS.

EIGHTH INNING.
CARDINALS—Marquard tossed out Doak. Kopp threw out Blades. Mann was safe on Kopp's wide throw. Toporcer flied to Felix. NO RUNS.

NINTH INNING.
CARDINALS—Doak flied out. Blades walked. Mann flied to Powell. Toporcer singled to center, sending Blades to third. Bottomley forced Toporcer. Kopp to Ford. NO RUNS.

TENTH INNING.
CARDINALS—Doak flied out. Blades walked. Mann flied to Powell. Toporcer singled to center, sending Blades to third. Bottomley forced Toporcer. Kopp to Ford. NO RUNS.

ELEVENTH INNING.
CARDINALS—Doak flied out. Blades walked. Mann flied to Powell. Toporcer singled to center, sending Blades to third. Bottomley forced Toporcer. Kopp to Ford. NO RUNS.

Twelfth Inning.
CARDINALS—Doak flied out. Blades walked. Mann flied to Powell. Toporcer singled to center, sending Blades to third. Bottomley forced Toporcer. Kopp to Ford. NO RUNS.

Thirteenth Inning.
CARDINALS—Doak flied out. Blades walked. Mann flied to Powell. Toporcer singled to center, sending Blades to third. Bottomley forced Toporcer. Kopp to Ford. NO RUNS.

Rutgers Adopts Freshman Rule

Action Supplies Example for Other Delinquent Schools to Follow, Perry Says.

By Lawrence Perry.
(Copyright 1923.)

NEW YORK, May 16.—Rutgers has adopted the freshman rule. It will go into effect with the opening session in September, 1924.

Rutgers is classed among the institutions which have adopted the rule, but have not held it as applicable to themselves, because of their comparatively small size.

Rutgers has less than 1000 students and the fact she has had the moral hardihood to adopt the freshman rule in the face of the certainty that it will affect in greater or less degree the athletic success of the college has been enjoying in recent years, speaks well for the fortitude of those who have promulgated it.

The influence will be the greater, as the most important seats of learning having adopted the freshman rule, it leaves those who have not adopted it in a position of loneliness.

Harvard has two crews, and hereafter he would develop a crew at Harvard for short-distance racing and one for long-distance racing. The short-distance crew, which will row a short sprinting stroke and the four-mile eight will row a sweep, in a matter of minutes will be qualified to cover the four-mile distance.

Charles is engaged upon a risky experiment which, so far, has been worked successfully by the late Charles E. Courtney of Cornell, alone.

MARSHVILLE-BANCROFT DEBATE REVIVED IN GIANT-PHANTOM GAMES

Fans in New York and Pittsburgh are still talking over the better shortstop, Rabbit Marshville of the Pirates or Dave Bancroft of the Phillies. Critics in the East seem to be of the opinion that neither is superior to the other. Certainly, both are good men. But what is the use of arguing over the relative merits of these two men when Charles Hollister, shortstop of the Cubs, is superior to both, according to averages for 1922. Of course, Charles has been sick this year and unable to do much.

Last year's averages show that Marshville hit .254, fielded .961 in 138 games; Bancroft hit .321 and fielded .941 in 138 games. Hollister fielded .965 and hit .325 in 152 games.

Dempsey Victims on Way.
CHICAGO, May 16.—Fighting bags for Jack Dempsey started west yesterday to work with the champion in preparation for his contest with Tom Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., July 4.

John J. Dempsey, brother of the title holder, departed for Great Falls, Mont., with George Goffrey, a giant boxer, and Jack Burke, a light-heavyweight, from Pittsburgh. Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, will arrive today with additional trainers. Dempsey expects to be in training within 10 days.

SPORT BRIEFS
Morris Freund, St. Louis horseman, has sold Peter, Cio, 2-year-old, the fastest pacer ever developed in St. Louis, to E. W. Pottle of Apson, Me. The price is understood to be $1000. Freund obtained the pacer in 1921. Apson may race him in the Grand Circuit, this season.

Three St. Louis men have been honored athletically by Princeton. Stuart E. Harris, pitcher of 377, Walter E. Harris, pitcher of 377, and Charles W. Harris, pitcher of 377, were named as members of Princeton's cross-country team.

St. Louis St. High School's baseball team met Soudan on Diamond A at Forest Park, at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. The game, scheduled for Tuesday, was postponed because of rain.

The time of the 42nd St. won the first place in the 150-mile air line flight for old birds, racing from Lebanon, Mo., to St. Louis, Lib. rated at 8:00. The winning bird, trained at 11:15. Twenty-one birds, with 264 birds, competed.

Leading Yankees Open Series With Brownies, Today

Huggins' Men During Western Invasion Have Won Five Out of Six Games.

By J. Roy Stockton.

Babe Ruth and the New York Yankees' whose Western invasion thus far has been highly successful, will call at Sportsman's Park this afternoon and test the strength of the machine that Lee Fohl is driving in the American League pennant race.

The Yankees played two games in Cleveland and won them handily and their triumph over the Detroit Tigers yesterday gave them three victories in the four-game series.

The Browns are on a winning streak of their own. They took the final game of the series from the Athletics and won both of the games played with the Boston Red Sox. Those three straight victories set a new season's record for the Fohl-men and come within one game of tying their 1922 record for consecutive victories. It is remarkable, but true, that the Browns' offense never won more than four games in a row, never lost more than four in succession and never won or lost an entire four-game series.

Best Good For Pitchers.
Brilliant pitching has attended effects of the Fohlmen. In the last three games, Wright, Vandell and Snicker were the winning pitchers and the two days of rest made possible by the rain yesterday and Monday, will enable Fohl to pick and choose in selecting the finger to face the bluejays of the Yankees this afternoon. Kentucky Derby Pool Ticket Buyers Have One Chance in 497,640

BASEBALL has no monopoly of the post-selling industry. Chances on the $70,000 Kentucky Derby are being sold in St. Louis at 50 cents per chance. The tickets call for a capital prize of $10,000 to the holder of the ticket that names the one, two, three place horses correctly.

Originally there were 145 horses eligible to race. Tickets on each of which the names of three of these 145 eligibles have been punched, are being sold. Each ticket, of course, is different.

The number of possible combinations of three horses with 145 eligibles is 497,640, which means, at 50 cents the ticket, a total possible sale of $248,820.

It being impossible to distribute that many tickets, the theoretical "clean up" is not possible. Nevertheless all unsold tickets "run" for the promoters, which makes their take very pretty with little risk.

HAGEN QUALIFIES WITH 147. SARAZEN WITH 151 IN LEEDS 'PRO' TOURNEY

LEEDS, England, May 16.—Walter Hagen had an aggregate of 147 and Sarazen 151 when they finished the qualifying round today in the professional golf tournament being conducted by the Yorkshire Evening News. Charles Hoffman of Philadelphia had 156 and his qualification was doubtful.

All three Americans played part of their rounds in a snowstorm. Among the other scores were: A. G. Havers, 143; Abe Mitchell, 147; James Ockenden, 149; Harry Vardon, 150; Arnold Massie, 154.

SHELBY FIGHT ADVANCE SALE REACHES $340,000

SHELBY, Mont., May 16.—The advance ticket sale for the Dempsey-Gibbons championship fight here July 4, reached $340,000 today. Promoters Lou J. Moloney and Mike E. Collins announced.

Among the recent reservations received here, was one from William H. Branch, general manager of the Galveston (Tex.) Beach Association, who ordered a block of 500 tickets at $5 each, for all men from Texas fields. Branch stated he believed the championship battle would draw near $100,000 from the Lone Star State alone.

The American Legion and business men of Butte, Mont., placed an order for $2,000 of tickets.

Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, today announced he had completed the Gibbons exhibition tour. Gibbons will open his theatrical swing next Monday at Helena, Mont. He will be at Butte, Tuesday; at Missoula, Wednesday; at Billings, Thursday; at Great Falls, Saturday; Shelby, Sunday; Lethbridge, Alberta, Monday; and Calgary, Tuesday.

BOB QUINN ANNOUNCES RELEASE OF BENNETT

Business Manager Bob Quinn of the Browns announced this morning he had released outfielder Herb Bennett to Tulsa of the Western League under a five-day recall agreement.

Changes at Close Small and Irregularly Distributed—Bonds Firm—Call Money Down.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Evening Post, in its comprehensive financial review today, says:

"Today's markets showed little change from the condition which has been in evidence during the last day or two. Trading remained distinctly dull, and while the bear party was able to depress individual stocks, the rate on call money, after opening at 4 1/2 per cent, was lowered to 4 per cent during the fourth hour.

Exchange Market Easier. "Quotations on foreign exchange were slightly easier after recent advances, trading at the same time showing a marked falling off in volume. Quotations also prevailed at London, where the markets are watching for the next move in the Ruhr crisis. Sterling opened firm in sympathy with the market abroad and then reacted to 4 1/2 per cent, the loss on the day amounting to 1/2 of a cent. French francs also gave way after momentary strength and were 1/2 point lower at 4 1/2 per cent. Most of the other continental showed declines and German marks were Coal prices from Survey of Current Business, February 1923.

Cement prices from U. S. Geological Survey.
Wages from November 1922 Monthly Labor Review, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

More for Your Money

By measuring things against each other as our grandmothers did when they swapped eggs for calico, we get the clearest idea of values.

Coal and wages make up more than half the manufacturing cost of cement.

The chart above shows price fluctuations for portland cement, coal and wages during the past ten years. In each case 100 is used to represent 1913 figures, by the Government departments which compiled these statistics.

Translated into "eggs and calico" language this chart shows that a ton of coal would buy nearly twice as much cement in 1922 as in 1913. A day's wages also would buy more cement in 1922 than in 1913.

This means that even though coal and wages make up more than half its manufacturing cost, cement is now relatively lower in price than either coal or wages.

CREX HERRINGBONE WEAVE

This Crex Herringbone Parlor Rug (No. 048) is to be had in the 9x12 ft. size of $19.50

Below strand of Crex wire grass magnified many times. Note the three smooth, solid, strong. No holes, no splits. This is why Crex rugs wear so long. Corns and dust find no lodging here.

STRAIN

This shows a strand of wire grass magnified the same way. Note the spungy, shaggy appearance. This is why foreign rugs and matting wear apart so easily. This spungy, shaggy strand is a weak breeding place for germs.

Easy To Have Well-Dressed Floors

NO reason in the world why every floor in your house should not be well-dressed this summer. Just insist on Crex Grass Rugs. No matter what the decorative scheme of your rooms may be—Jacobean, Colonial, whatnot—there's a Crex in design and coloring to perfectly harmonize.

But be sure the rug you buy is a genuine Crex. Crex Rugs are made of tough wire grass, twisted and woven to give them the strength that makes them last for years and years. Beware of inferior imitations.

See Crex Rugs in the best furniture and department stores. Or send for handsome 32 page catalogue showing the different rugs in natural colorings. Prices for the popular 9x12 size range from $11.00 to $22.50.

SOCIALIST CONGRESS MAY REORGANIZE

Plan Drafted for Consideration at Meeting This Month
in Hamburg.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
VIENNA, April 22.—A comprehensive plan for the reorganization of the Socialist International has been drafted by the Executive Committee of that organization at a two-day session at Bregenz, Austria, and has been forwarded to Hamburg for consideration at the Socialist International to be held there in May.

The main points of reorganization are set forth as follows:
"In the Socialist Workers' International there shall be united those socialist workers' parties who aim to substitute the socialistic for the capitalistic mode of production and who regard class warfare as a means to the emancipation of the working classes."

Unifying Activities.
"The S. W. I. assumes the task of unifying the activities of affiliated parties and combining the same in united action."

"The parties allied in the S. W. I. bind themselves not to belong to any political international association."
"The S. W. I. is the only such measure a living reality as its resolutions in all international questions may be binding upon all its parties. Every resolution of the international organization, therefore, means a self-imposed obligation of the autonomy of the party in the various countries."

"The S. W. I. is to be an institution not only for the solution of problems in time of peace, but also an indispensable instrument in time of war."

"During conflicts between nations, the S. W. I. shall be looked upon by its affiliates as the highest court of appeal."

"The departments on which these tasks shall involve are: 1. The International Congress; 2. The Executive; 3. The Bureau; 4. The Business Commission; 5. The Secretariat."

Other proposals follow:
"The Congress shall be summoned by the executive when political events justify it, but in any case once in every three years. The next congress must meet at the latest in 1923. This executive shall be compelled to summon congress within the shortest time possible if called upon to do so by 10 affiliated parties."

"Only such parties shall participate in congress as are affiliated with the S. W. I. The question of affiliation shall be decided by the executive, subject to confirmation by congress."

"The S. W. I. finds in the unity of the proletarian movement, as represented by the International, the indispensable basis for the successful waging of class war."

"The S. W. I. finds in the unity of the proletarian movement, as represented by the International, the indispensable basis for the successful waging of class war."

"The S. W. I. will therefore remain in constant touch with the above named international, and is prepared to hold, from time to time, in common with these international organizations, meetings and make congresses of the working classes for the discussion of problems common to all these organizations."

GOOD WILL TOURISTS GUESTS AT BANQUET IN SPRINGFIELD

St. Louisans Attend Chamber of Commerce Luncheon—Specials
Next Stop at Dayton.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 15.—The St. Louis group with tourists arrived in Springfield last night in their special train and were guests at a banquet given at a local hotel by the Springfield Chamber of Commerce.
Miss A. Becker, chair of the St. Louis group at the banquet and other St. Louis speakers were George H. H. Smith, Carl E. Hager and William T. Fisher, Jr. Hager, Frank E. Hager, State Superintendent of Inspection, and Mayor Bullard of Springfield were among the St. Louisans on their Illinois tour.

The St. Louis special left early today for Dayton. Yesterday the tourists made stops at Pekin, Bloomington and Lincoln. Rain fell during most of the day, but did not interfere with the street parade and band concert in each town where the special train stopped.

SLAYER SAVED FROM EXECUTION

Reprieved 11 Times, Oklahoma Man Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., May 15.—William H. Tait, self-confessed slayer, who in the last two years has been granted 11 reprieves from execution, was given a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment by the Oklahoma court today. It was said that Tait made the first act of the chief executive in carrying out his duties, namely, that the death sentence would not be allowed to operate in his case.

In writing aside Tait's death penalty imposed by a Comanche County court, which was to have been carried out by electrocution May 16, the Governor said he did so on the grounds that "our Christian civilization demands the abrogation of the death penalty for crime." Tait pleaded guilty of the murder of Russell Sprague, Lawton service car driver, the night of March 26, 1921.

GRAYSON DEFENDS HORSE RACING

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 15.—Horse racing was defended as a necessary and important adjunct to the army by Rear Admiral Carr T. Grayson, who speaking here last night at the annual dinner of the American Remount Association. He said, "Horse racing is the only amusement for the continuation of the horse breeding and training of the army's most valuable training field for horses."

An invitation of the Better Horse Club of Houston, Tex., for the association to stage an endurance test for horses across Texas was enthusiastically accepted.

When you fix up this Spring—

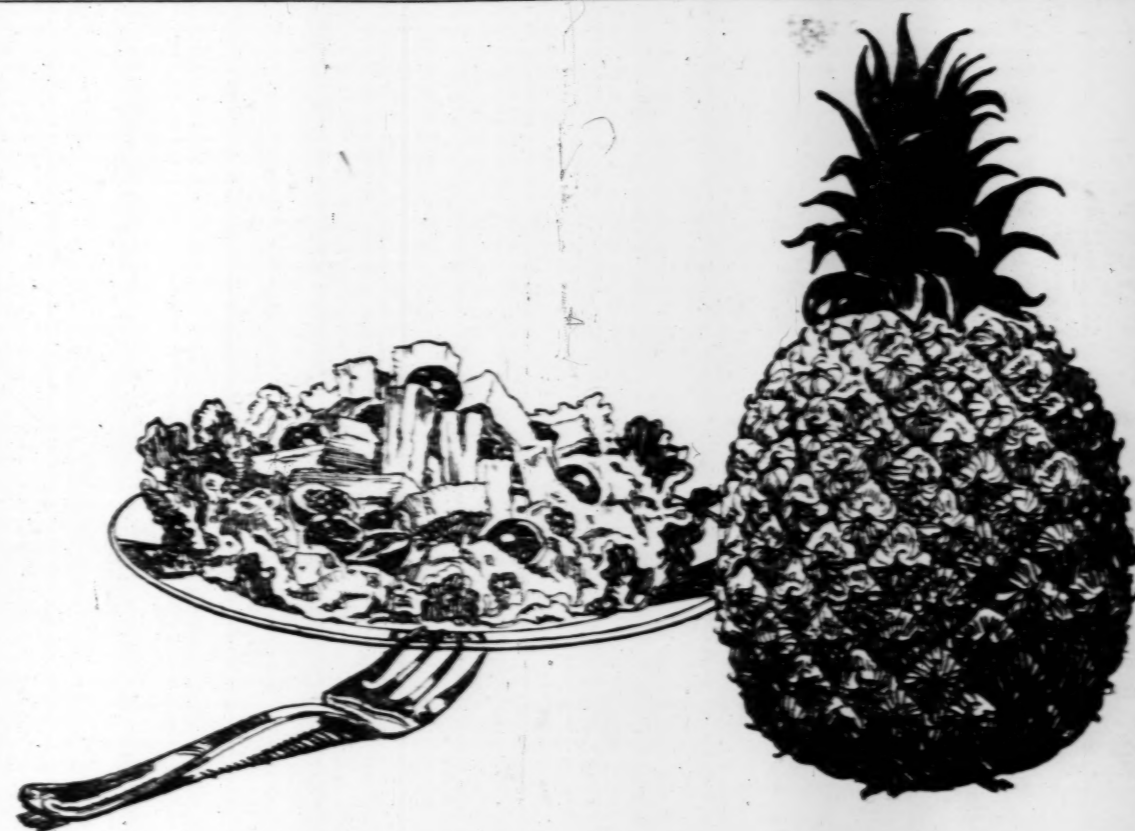

WHAT about your shades? Don't forget it costs a very little more to have new shades at the windows and my—how it does freshen things up! The room looks brighter, the curtains whiter. New window shades give a "finish," a touch of real distinction that few other things can give.

But the best shades will prove subject failures in giving service unless they are mounted on quality rollers. And the American home-maker knows there is only one quality roller—HARTSHORN!

Enjoy Fresh Pineapples Now!

Deliciously Sweet and Fragrant, They Come Direct from the Haciendas of Cuba
—Cost Only a Few Cents

Great, luscious, golden-brown pineapples, so fragrant they perfume your whole house when you take them home, are arriving from Cuba by the shipload now.

For this is pineapple time in Cuba—where the finest of all pineapples are grown.

The pineapple season is short—six to eight weeks at the most, so don't stint yourself during the short season, enjoy this aristocrat of fruits as often as you want to.

Pineapples now low priced

For a few cents you can buy a big, luscious, scented pine that will be enough for a family of five.

Prepare it for serving like the Cuban housewives do, as we show you on this page.

Try it for breakfast tomorrow morning. You will relish your bacon and eggs more for eating pineapple first. For the juice of the pineapple is an appetite stimulant, as well as a powerful digestive.

Makes digestion easy

Juice of the pineapple is rich in bromelain, a ferment which is one of the most powerful digestives known. It acts instantly, and it quickly converts the food you eat into body sustaining elements.

The acids and the mineral salts this fruit abounds in, make it one of the most healthful you can eat.

This is the time to can pineapples, while they are inexpensive. Home canned pineapple tastes better—it has the flavor and tartness of the fresh fruit, which are lost in the commercially canned product.

Be sure when you buy a pineapple, that it is Cuban grown, for these are the finest in flavor, in fragrance and in quality.

Sliced Pineapple for Breakfast

Prepare pineapple for breakfast by peeling and cutting up the night before. Sprinkle with sugar and let it stand all night. Add chopped marshmallows the next morning before serving.

Write for Recipe Book

If you will write to us we will send you a booklet of new ways to serve fresh pineapples. Many good new dishes with which to vary the home menu.

How to Prepare Fresh Pineapple

1. Grasp the pineapple firmly in one hand, then take hold of the core with the other hand and twist it off.

2. Now slice the fruit across in thick slices and less than three-quarters of an inch thick.

3. Put a slice on a plate. Then run a sharp knife around the edge of the slice, inside the core. If the core is not cut away, it will spoil the taste.

4. Cut across the slice as shown in diagram. Four cuts, one on each side of the core. The core will be cut without any waste.

The Personal and Business

By Winifred Black

SHE'S having rather a bad time of it—the woman who wrote to me yesterday.

She's alone in a bare little, cheap little room at a bare little, cheap little hotel—and she doesn't like the food, and the one chair in the room is broken and the bed is hard and the mirror in the cheap little bureau is dim and crinkled and her one window looks out on a dark narrow court and she doesn't know anyone in the city and she wants to find work.

And it must be easy work and something that it won't take her long to learn.

She's not very strong and she doesn't know much about anything in particular.

She can wash dishes a little and sweep a little and cook a little. She is 27 and her husband is dead and she has two children in the half-orphan asylum and she must do something to support herself.

And she's answered all the ads and nothing seemed to suit her.

You see, she doesn't want to work for a woman.

She just can't bear the thought of working for another woman, that's what's the hard part of it, and she wants to know what she can do about it.

I'll tell you what I should do if I were in her place.

I should put all that nonsense about working for another woman out of my head and out of my heart and out of my soul forever.

What if men took such an attitude as that?

What would become of Mrs. John Smith and all the little John Smiths, if John should decide that he simply couldn't bear to work for another man?

John Smith knows better. No matter how he began, or who he was when he began, life has taught him to do the best he can wherever he can get something to do.

You're Working for Money.

John knows that nobody is going to pay him good wages just because he happens to be alive and in need of a job.

Half the time John hates his job—but he goes on with it just the same—and he goes on with it because he's thinking not entirely of himself, but sometimes of Mrs. John and the little Smiths, too.

The only reason a woman doesn't want to work for another woman is because she is conceited and vain and silly.

What if the other woman is conceited and vain and silly, too?

What's that to you, Mrs. Work-a-day? You're not working for the other woman because you like her—you're not even working for her because you particularly want to please her.

You're working for her for money—just plain money—and you ought to do the very best work you can—take your money and let it go at that.

Of course, you must try to please her—or she might find someone who will try and then you'd be out of a job. Why don't you look at this thing entirely as a matter of business?

When you go out to buy a pair of shoes, you don't insist upon taking a fancy to the shoe clerk, do you—before you buy the shoes?

Why can't you look at the woman who is hiring you to do work that she wants done—in exactly the same way?

Of course, if you can make your particular Other Woman like you, she will probably take pains to make things pleasant for you, and if you can manage to like her, you will find that your work isn't work at all, but a pleasure.

Change Your Attitude.

But, anyway—why think whether it's a woman or a man who's paying you your salary? Your business is with your work, and her business, as far as you are concerned, is with the way you do that work and the money she's willing to pay you for doing it.

Change your attitude, Little Mrs. Work-a-day—or you'll be finding yourself spending a good deal of time in that bare little, cheap little room at the bare little, cheap little hotel—and you'll be using most of that time reading the help-wanted advertisements.

According to Col. Fox, chief of the London Salvage Corps, women smokers are more tidy than men. They keep their ash trays handy, while the man will put his cigarette on the edge of his desk.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Boxer Loses Some Conceit

By Thornton W. Burgess

Who scorns advice, but goes his way,
Will lose his self-esteem some day.

—Mother Bear.

BOXER and Woolf Woolf were not yet fully grown, but they were big for their age, and it was quite natural that most of their neighbors in the Green Forest should keep out of their way. Boxer felt that he was grown up. That is because he was so conceited. He liked to stand up by a tree, reach up as far as he could, and dig his claws into the bark to show how big he was. It tickled him to see how his neighbors always hurried to get out of his way. Every time one of them did this Boxer grew more and more conceited. Every day he grew more boastful.

Then one day as Boxer and Woolf Woolf were shuffling along they met Prickly Porky. Prickly Porky was shuffling along, too. Prickly Porky paid no attention to Boxer and Woolf Woolf. Boxer, who was in the lead, stopped and growled his very deepest, most grumbly, rumbling growl. He expected to see Prickly Porky hurry to give up the path to them. Prickly Porky didn't. He did stop, but he didn't step out of that path.

Boxer became very angry. His small eyes grew red with rage. "Step out of our way!" he growled.

Prickly Porky said nothing. Instead, he poked his head under an old log which lay close beside the path, raised the thousand little spears that had been hidden in his coat, and remained motionless. It was quite plain to see that Prickly Porky had no intention of getting out of that path. If those two Bears wanted to keep on up the path they would have to go around him. At least that is what his attitude seemed to say.

Woolf Woolf stepped out from behind Boxer and did walk around Prickly Porky into the path again. Then she turned to see what Boxer would do, and in her small eyes there was a twinkle.

Boxer took a few steps forward. "Get out of that path!" he snarled.

"If you don't you will be sorry!" "If you are wise you will go around him," said Woolf Woolf mildly. "You remember Mother Bear taught us never to meddle with Prickly Porky."

"Step out of our way!" he growled.

"Huh!" growled Boxer. "No little fellow like this is going to make me go around him. He is going to get out of this path or he will be sorry. I'm not afraid of him. If he isn't afraid of me he will be the next time he sees me."

Now Boxer had been told all about Prickly Porky, and warned that he should never be meddled with. But Boxer never had felt those little spears of Prickly Porky. When he had been small he had been more ready to believe, because then Prickly Porky was quite as big as himself. But now that he was so big, Boxer was inclined to laugh at all the things he had been told about Prickly Porky. It simply couldn't be that anyone so much smaller was to be treated with respect.

A Dead Man's Shoes

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB

IN a princely palace alone he lay,
With only paid servitors
To perform the last deeds
To perform the last deeds,

But all was still and orderly
With legal procedure and world decorum.
The soul of him, however,
Heard his last will and testament read
To the few mourners, who never mourned.
Because it was a day of joy to them.
A day of deliverance from cares and sorrows.
Not a tear was shed,
Nor even a sweet memory recited.
And the spirit of him cried aloud with anguish.
"They called me miser
And said I hoarded my money
And would do nothing for them.
And they were right."

I remember the day John came
To beg of me the lift he needed.
And my answer was,
'Grovel in the dust and work your way as I did.
Nobody helped me.'
And Ann, my sister's girl,
Wanted more schooling.
And I told her that I had not had any schooling.
And so on, to all I turned a deaf ear,
While I hid my coffers
Of glittering gold and denied them.
Small wonder they learned to hate
The hand they might have loved,
The hand that should have helped rather than withheld.
Through all eternity I shall remember
The deeds I might have done,
And pay the penalty of penury.
Ah, what a fool I was
To lose the love of young people
And the joy of family ties;
Not to understand the blessings of giving rather than keeping.
And in the end to have died in vain, unloved and lonely,
Giving heritage to those that were just waiting
For a dead man's shoes."

Prickly Porky didn't move. Boxer looked at the thousand little spears standing out all over Prickly Porky. An idea came to Boxer. He would slip his paw under Prickly Porky and throw him right over on his back. Boxer reached out a paw. Something happened. It happened so suddenly that Boxer didn't know just what did happen. But he knew that he was hurt. Oh yes, he knew that.

How he did squall! He jumped back so suddenly that he tripped over his own feet, and fell sprawling on his back. In that paw with which he had reached out half a dozen of Prickly Porky's little spears were sticking.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Good News

For those who breakfast in a hurry

There is now a Quaker Oats which cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes—the quickest cooking oats in the world. It is called Quick Quaker—perfected by our experts. No other oat dish can compare with this in the little time needed to cook it.

The same Quaker flavor

Quaker Oats dominates because of its flavor. It is flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, savory oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these extra-flavorful flakes.

That's why millions of mothers, all the world over, insist on this premier brand. They want their children to eat oats, so they make the oat dish tempting.

Quick Quaker is made from those same selected grains. But we cut the oats before flaking. Then they are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

So there are now two reasons for Quaker Oats. First, that matchless quality and flavor. Second, oats that cook faster than the coffee.

The pleasant, pungent odor of Lifebuoy proves the presence of its EXTRA health element

"Bring Them Safe Back Home to Me"

Every mother's heart breathes a little prayer as her darlings each morning trudge gaily and bravely away towards the adventures of a new day.

Guard them from a thousand possible dangers—from reckless drivers—but above all else, guard them from Dirt.

Guard them from touching germpolluted things—from playmates who live in insanitary homes—from stray dogs and cats—from always-dangerous dust.

Your children can have but one protection—perfect, scientific cleanliness. Train them to keep clean. Train them to purify hands and face with the regular use of Lifebuoy Health Soap.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that all soaps are alike. Lifebuoy is wholly different from ordinary soap. The rich, wholesome lather of Lifebuoy does more than cleanse surface dirt—it goes down deep into every pore, driving out impurities and leaving its sanitary protection to guard against infection.

Lifebuoy is as pure and bland as soap can be made. Its palm-fruit oil and coconut oil keep the skin soft and glowing with health.

Buy several cakes so you can have it wherever there is running water. Health is priceless, yet Lifebuoy costs little.

Coconut now put up in tins like fine fruit

With it your pies, cakes and other coconut desserts are better than ever before. The scales tell why.

*To know why your cake grows stale overnight when made with ordinary dry coconut—make this simple test:

Balance any dry shredded coconut with an equal quantity of Baker's Coconut, Southern Style, on small hand scales. Place a dish of water under the scale pans. The pan containing the dry coconut will gradually sink lower and lower as it absorbs moisture. It will rob your cake of moisture in the same way. Baker's Coconut, packed moist in its own juices, never steals moisture from your cake.

A way has at last been discovered for putting up coconut not dry, but moist and fresh like fine fruits.

By this wonderful new process you can get coconut as tender and rich in flavor as if it had just been grated from the meat of a newly-opened nut.

Baker's Coconut, Southern Style, gives you coconut in air-tight tins, packed moist with its own juices but without the milk.

Try it in your pies, puddings, cookies, your popular jello desserts; and on your sliced, stewed or canned fruits. You will be surprised at the difference this moist coconut makes. Cakes made with it stay moist and fresh for days. The scales tell why.

Order a can of Baker's Coconut, Southern Style, today, and surprise your family with the new deliciousness of one of their favorite coconut desserts.
